Pentagon To Cut Missile

Mobile Rocket Sliced

Washington (UPI)—The Defense Department is on the verge of killing its mobile medium range ballistic missile (MMRBM) program after investing more than $100 million in the project, it was learned Thursday night.

Once described by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as one of the major weapon developments started during the Democratic administration, the MMRBM has been advocated by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and supreme allied commanders in Europe as an essential replacement for obsolescent aircraft and older missiles.

Cancellation of the project seemed likely to stir recriminations between Congress and the Defense Department.

Each has blamed the other for certain failures in pressing the project. This year, Congress decided to cut the Defense Department's request for $110 million for the MMRBM to $40 million.

Not Enough Money

The decision to kill the project originates in the congressional action, since $40 million is not considered sufficient to continue development work.

Some sources said the Pentagon may not announce the ending of the project but, instead may state that it is being "reoriented."

That would mean there would be continuation of development work on the highly advanced stellar inertial guidance system which could be used in future rockets.

One year ago Thursday, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the Senate Appropriations Committee that the MMRBM had come to be regarded by NATO allies "as essential to replace obsolescent aircraft and missiles now assigned to the attack of targets of prime interest to NATO."

Reduced Concern

A cut in funds, made in spite of Taylor's plea, would be regarded as an indication of reduced U.S. concern for NATO defense needs, the general testified.

His civilian superiors, however, did not vigorously protest the cut.

The MMRBM, under development by the Air Force, was to be a highly mobile, nuclear-armed rocket with a range between 500 and 1,500 miles.

Congress has been reluctant to grant all the money sought, partly on grounds that the Defense Department did not present an adequate picture of its need and planned use of the missile.

There was also apprehension about the willingness of the European countries to have it based on their territory.

Doomed Child Will Visit JFK's Grave

. . . TOT'S WISH GRANTED

Dalton, Ga. (AP) — Diane Richards, 5, is expected to die soon. What may be her last wish will be granted this weekend when she visits the grave of President John Kennedy.

Diane doesn't know that she is suffering from an incurable kidney affliction.

But her mother, Mrs. Billy Richards, knows—and that's why the family was driving to Washington Thursday night. "This is the thing she has wanted to do most of all," Mrs. Richards said.

After watching the telecast of the late President's funeral, Diane said: "Mommy, will you take me to see his grave?"

Fond Of JFK

"She was very fond of President Kennedy," said the mother. "Anytime she saw a picture of him, I had to buy it for her."

Diane spends most of her time watching television and everytime she hears mention of the late president, she says, "They're talking about my President Kennedy."

To fulfill the girl's request, Mrs. Richards had planned to go to Washington during the family's vacation time this summer.

But the "vacation" was spent in a hospital in Atlanta. For this reason, the Richards will only be able to stay in Washington for the weekend.

Mrs. Richards works at Textile Rubber and Chemical Co. in Dalton. Diane has a 13-year-old sister and a 19-year-old stepbrother.

The girl's physician described the disease as chronic progressive kidney disorder, with other complications, such as bone problems and anemia.

Council Will Hear New Building Plan

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A proposed City Council resolution authorizing negotiations with Lancaster County for a joint city-county building at 10th and J may get the issue moving again.

Little, if any, progress resulted from two previous resolutions this year.

The latest, scheduled for council hearing Monday, 1:30 p.m., would authorize Mayor Dean Petersen to negotiate an agreement with the county "for construction, operation and maintenance of a joint city-county building on or near 10th and J."

On Record

The resolution, if adopted, would put the city officially on record for the present site of the County Courthouse and abandon the 1980 Comprehensive Plan's proposed 15th and O location.

The county now owns two blocks at 10th and J, including the courthouse block, and this location for the new building is favored by the commissioners.

The resolution does not detail the scope of negotiations, but any negotiated agreement must be submitted to the council and county board for approval and ultimately to the voters for approval of a bond issue.

Negotiations would only draft a proposed agreement regarding financing, planning and construction, its operations and a bond issue.

The proposed resolution indicates that the City-County Building Authority has been abandoned in favor of a joint operating agreement between the city and county and issuance of general obligation bonds.

More Economical

Bond opinions have indicated this method of financing is more economical and preferrable than building authority revenue bonds. One estimate is a $800,000 "savings" on a $6 million issue.

The county has also insisted a building committee or commission for the new building should be composed of representative members of the council and county board.

It has proposed a five-member board with two members each from the two governing bodies and the fifth to be a district judge.

No construction estimate has been officially disclosed for the building, but a $6 million bond issue has been discussed in joint sessions of councilmen and commissioners.

A recent Clark and Enersen study indicates the city and county offices need 174,914 square feet on the basis of 1964 requirements. Future expansion needs on a 20-year projection, are estimated at 35,000 additional square feet.

Bond Plans

There has been discussion that expansion space should be provided and leased out until required for governmental offices.

Several bond plans have been proposed. Under the Grossman Plan, the county would issue the bonds and the city pay its fair share of bond amortization and operational costs.

Several council members have suggested the city and county separately issue bonds for their share of the building.

These various details would be subject to negotiations with the mayor recommending the most feasible and advantageous in submitting a proposed agreement between the city and county to the City Council for approval.

Bond Issue

This agreement would then be submitted to the voters of Lancaster County in the form of a bond issue.

Earlier, Mayor Petersen had hoped for a city-county building election this year, but such a vote is probably not possible until 1965.

GAO Report Raps State Road Policies

Washington (AP) — The General Accounting Office said Thursday deficiencies and problems in administration of rights of way activities by the Bureau of Public Roads and the Nebraska Highway Department were found in a review of Nebraska projects.

The review, GAO said, was of various federal-aid highway projects in the state.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell said some findings point out that because of what were termed inadequate practices and procedures the government helped pay for costs which were either unnecessary or questionable.

Not Desired

In transmitting the report to Congress, Campbell said other findings show that the Bureau's methods for obtaining improvements in the state's rights of way practices and procedures did not produce "the desired corrective action in a timely manner."

Campbell said matters identified in the report which contributed to unnecessary or questionable costs related to:

—Inadequate property management procedures and practices.

—Erroneous reimbursement for acquisition of rights of way in excess of that required for highway construction.

—Salvage value of certain improvements not being accredited against highway project costs.

Not Effective

GAO said portions of the report which point out that the Bureau's methods of obtaining improvement in "a timely manner" were not effective related to:

—Lack of proper state compliance with the bureau policy providing for active participation by rights of way personnel in selecting highway locations.

—The state's "failure" to document properly support for estimates of severance damages to "remainder lands."

Corrective Action

GAO said the Bureau has informed it that corrective action has been or will be taken on most of the matters called to its attention.

The Bureau, GAO added, also reported that about $110,000 in Federal funds "applicable to the questionable costs mentioned in the report" had been or would be recovered from the state.

The report said the state did not maintain the control records needed to determine whether projects would receive appropriate credits for the disposition of readily removable items in buildings or on premises obtained in rights of way acquisition.

Equipment Taken

Bureau investigations, the report continues, disclosed that the State Highway Department's maintenance division had removed valuable equipment "for which related projects received no credit."

It said Bureau investigations disclosed also an alleged theft of such items by a state rights of way employe who, the Bureau was advised, has been dismissed by the State Highway Department. No names were given.

Hossack: Operation Modified

State Highway Engineer John Hossack said Thursday that Nebraska has modified some of its Interstate right-of-way acquisition procedures to please the General Accounting Office.

The GAO Thursday released an unfavorable report on Nebraska right-of-way acquisition practices to Congress. The report covers a period between 1956 and 1961.

The report contended the Nebraska Highway Department was remiss in not auctioning buildings and interior furnishings as salvage before demolishing the structures.

Started

Hossack said the Highway Department had done this when it started Interstate construction but found that high bidders were too slow in getting the furnishings out and tearing down the buildings.

So when the Highway Department started working on the downtown Omaha Interstate section to 31st and Grover Sts., Hossack said, it decided to just let demolition contracts and get the structures removed faster.

"That way we got rid of them pretty fast," he noted.

Agreed

The highway engineer agreed with the GAO that it lost some salvage money as a result, but he emphasized this was more than made up for by getting the Interstate completed faster.

"The thing they (the GAO) forget is that we might have been there a year more before we could get rolling."

The Highway Department now auctions off interior furnishing such as electrical wiring and pipes but has the demolition work done separately.

Slowed Down

Hossack said putting entire buildings up for salvage was all right at first but soon the supply exceeded the demand, slowing down the whole works. He said in some cases after the furnishings were removed the people forgot to tear down the building.

Hossack also confirmed that a department employe was fired several years ago for alleged petty thievery on the job. The incident was mentioned in the GAO report.

The items reportedly taken out of some abandoned buildings which were due to be razed included a hot water heater, a thermostat and some tile.

Heavy Rains Pelt Eastern Part Of State

Large amounts of rain fell in areas of eastern Nebraska Thursday afternoon in very short periods of time.

According to unofficial reports, in the same length of time Emerald had 3.70, Davey 4.00, Waverly 1.5, Malcolm 2.76 and Raymond 3.15 inches.

One man reported that most of the 1.5 inches at Waverly seemed to have fallen in only a five-minute period.

At Omaha 1.20 inches of rain fell in a 20 minute period.

A 54-year-old Omaha man was killed when struck by lightning during a heavy rainstorm. Roy Koch was struck as he ran from his car to get a raincoat for his wife.

Norfolk reported .95 inches, Fremont 1.5 and Crete 1.29.

The high in Lincoln Friday will be in the low 70s and the unseasonably cool weather is supposed to continue for the next few days, according to the Lincoln Weather Bureau.

COMPETITORS: Sharon and Karen, or is it Karen and Sharon?

Twin Competition Tough

. . . AT SALINE COUNTY FAIR IN CRETE

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete—Either Sharon or Karen will tell you its tough facing a twin sister who's such tough competition.

Other 4-Hers at the Saline County Fair find it's even tougher facing two twin Crays sisters who are such tough competition. Especially in the business of beef showmanship, the 16-year-old Tobias misses are the best of bets.

"We'll at least be trying again, but after last year we don't know," cautioned the Sharon slice of the partnership. "Karen only got a third in showmanship, and I didn't even place."

This one "off year" came after three years straight that Sharon had taken the 4-H beef showmanship trophy while Karen was runner-up. Their Herefords have also brought at least a half dozen grand and reserve champion ribbons.

Usual Entries

The girls expect to go against the usual 25 or so showmanship entries again Friday afternoon. That's typical of the fair's overall competition: 99 beef entries, for example, 60 swine, 43 sheep and 31 dairy.

"Practically every department is up at least a little," appraised County Agent Gene Novotny. "Our hogs have just about doubled in the past three years and there are 1,400 4-H exhibits in home economics and other fields."

The initial judging was scheduled for Thursday night, this in the flower show which traditionally numbers displays in the hundreds. The summer drought cut in somewhat this year, but enough bouquets came to make this yet a highlight of the 4-day fair.

Poultry Show

Another stand-out was the poultry show, believed to be the largest annually of any Nebraska county fair. Superintendent Robert Lanphere of Dorchester, 75, reported 330 chicken entries, alone divided almost evenly between 4-H and open class.

The fair comes into full focus Friday with the annual Old-Settlers Picnic at noon and a full day of judging. Free entertainment will be the evening feature, and more of this is billed for Saturday and Sunday.

A 10:30 a.m. parade will brighten the Saturday offering, followed in the afternoon by a mass band concert and tractor pulling contest. Two sessions of amateur rodeo sponsored by the Crete Saddle Club are scheduled for 1 and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Crash Claims Five Omahans

Missouri Valley, Iowa (AP)—Five Omaha residents—three women and two men—were killed Thursday night when a car in which they were riding went out of control and was hit by a truck on Highway 75 about nine miles north of here.

The victims, all Negroes, were northbound and died at the scene when the car was smashed.

Missouri Valley police identified the victims:

Fanny Young, no age: Ada L. Brown 52; Joe Stuart, 43; Homer Drew, 56 and Janice Grayson, 53.

Iowa Highway Patrolman Carl Lent who investigated the crash said there had been heavy rain and water covered the spot where the car spun around into the path of a meat truck driven by 32-year-old William Leroy Woods of Des Moines.

Pentagon Says Barry's Claim Lacks Foundation

Washington (UPI) — The Defense Department Thursday fired another barrage in its running counter-attack on Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater's claims that America's deliverable nuclear capacity will be cut as much as 90% in the next 10 years.

A statement reiterated previous contentions that the Arizona senator's statement on nuclear power was "totally without foundation in fact."

"It is false, and if the senator would trouble to inform himself, he would learn that it is false," the Pentagon statement said.

Wednesday, in Springfield, Ill., Goldwater again charged that the administration, in reducing bomber strength, could cut America's "deliverable nuclear capacity by 90% in the next decade."

In response Thursday, the Pentagon not only called Goldwater's calculations false but asserted that the United States would have large numbers of strategic bombers at every stage from now through fiscal year 1972. It said no decision had been made about needs beyond then.

Plenty Of Them

But, the statement went on, "We will have manned bombers, and plenty of them, just as long as they are needed."

It said ample provision was being made for any post-1972 bomber needs in three ways:

—Possible extension of the life of the B52 bomber.

—Research on "new manned systems" and,

—Study of possible strategic uses of "manned systems now in production."

The latter may have been a reference to possible use of the controversial TFX fighter as a strategic airplane.

Captured Yank Pilot Quoted As Saying He's Well Treated

Tokyo (UPI) — The U.S. Navy pilot who was shot down and captured during the American raids on North Vietnamese naval bases has written a letter to his wife saying that he is being well treated, Radio Hanoi said Thursday.

A monitored broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital contained new hints that the communists would release the airman, Lt. (jg) Everett Alvarez Jr., 26, of San Jose, Calif., if the United States stopped "aggression and provocations" against North Viet Nam.

It quoted Alvarez as saying, in a letter to his wife, Tangee, "Up to now I have been well treated. I am adequately clothed and sheltered."

'Autumn Fragrance'

The broadcast was made by Thu Huong, North Viet Nam's version of the World War II "Tokyo Rose." Thu Houng calls herself "Autumn Fragrance."

The United States is seeking Alvarez' release through the International Red Cross.

Radio Hanoi quoted Alvarez' letter·

"First of all, I want to tell you, Tangee, that I am alive and well . . . my precious wife, I am sorry for the grief and sorrow you have suffered.

"I know that my mother and father have gone through much anxiety also. For this I am truly sorry, Tangee. Let mom and dad know I am all right.

"I have been informed of all your reactions and comments, the things you and dad said and did when you heard the news about me. I believe these are excerpts from articles that appeared in the newspapers

"Lead a good life, Tangee, be that it may be without me."

Alvarez was married only eight months ago.

Local-Level Rights Use Suggested

BARRY RAPPED BY DEMOCRATS

Atlantic City (UPI)—Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia told fellow Democrats Thursday they would be following a reckless course if they failed to promise that the civil rights law would be made effective through local people instead of through fear of federal force.

Sanders, who is classed as a Southern moderate, discussed the new civil rights law in an appearance before the Democratic Platform Committee to which he submitted an 8-page draft of a proposed party platform.

The draft did not include a specific civil rights plank. But it did include a number of gibes at Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, who was accused by Sanders of engaging in "sheer demagoguery."

After three days of hearings in Washington, the platform Committee Thursday shifted its base to this national convention city for more sessions before tackling the platform drafting job.

Ticklish Issues

The civil rights plank was one of two ticklish issues facing the 35th Democratic National Convention. The other involved promised challenges to the seating of the regular party delegations from Mississippi and Alabama.

With the formal opening of the convention set for Monday night, delegates and party leaders were beginning to arrive. Armies of workmen were buzzing around the giant convention hall where President Johnson will be nominated next Wednesday on the eve of his 56th birthday anniversary.

The Platform Committee also heard harsh comments about Goldwater Thursday from Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall. He said Goldwater was "indifferent to conservation legislation—as he is with so much legislation that affects the national interest—for the reason that he exalts private rights above needs."

In his testimony, the Georgia governor said recent racial disturbances clearly showed that legislation "is not the only or even the most important answer."

"The unrest in our country cannot be calmed by pretending it does not exist or by false implications that a president of either party can counsel defiance of law and order or can violate his oath of office by failing to see that the laws of this country are faithfully executed," Sanders said.

He recalled that he had opposed the public accommodations section of the civil rights law.

" . . . It is now the task of the Democratic Party to assure everyone that the intent of this law should be achieved through local people in their own local communities, and not through fear of federal force or federal intimidation," he said.

Customs, Tradition

"The letter of the law notwithstanding, local customs, traditions and usage should be considered in working out solutions to this problem. Any other course would be reckless, and I therefore advocate that the Democratic Party make this clear in its platform."

The draft said Goldwater had tried to depict the Democrats as a party devoted to mammoth federal government and decision-making in Washington.

"But a comparison of the economic role of the federal government under Democratic and Republican administrations shows that this line of attack is sheer demagoguery based on false information or no information at all," he said.

Sanders said the Goldwater answer to all complex problems "is a glib and cutting quip untarnished by any knowledge or—what is more alarming—any apparent taste for knowledge."

Mars Missions Planned

. . . SPACE AGENCY READIES MARINERS

Washington (AP)—The space agency said Thursday it plans to launch two identical Mariner spacecraft late this year on separate eight-month missions toward Mars.

The spacecraft will be equipped with television cameras and other recording devices to gather information perhaps as close as 15,000 miles from the plane.

Radio telemetry equipment will be used to relay the data more than 350 million miles back to earth. After passing beyond Mars, the 570-pound spacecraft will go into looping orbits around the sun.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration called this "the most complex mission to be attempted to date in the U.S. unmanned space program."

Objects

The objects will be to:

1. Explore interplanetary space between earth and Mars, including the asteroid belt near Mars that may provide a micrometeorite problem for future space travelers.

2. Obtain television "closeups" of the so-called red planet which many scientists believe is a living world, with vegetation, water and an atmosphere.

3. Gather data on the Martian atmosphere. The trajectory will be designed to take the spacecraft behind Mars. If there are changes in the tracking signals transmitted by the mariner craft just before they disappear behind the planet and black out completely, this will provide information on variations in the density of the atmosphere through which the signals must pass.

4. Test new engineering techniques including the first use of the improved Atlas-D launching booster and of the Agena-D vehicle second stage, and a mid-course guidance rocket engine that can be fired twice. Spacecraft guidance engines used heretofore have not had a re-start capability.

The flights also will mark the first use of the star canopus for spacecraft attitude reference. Project officers explained that this is a particularly bright star with a good, dark background making it desirable for use as a reference point.

The tests also will mark the first severe test of high frequency radio communication over vast distances—more than 150 million miles, compared with the 53.9 million miles achieved for the 1962 Mariner II flight past Venus.

"The first Mars mission also will yield important data on space navigation over great distances and on the capability of powering a spacecraft by converting sunlight to electricity during a mission in which the sun-spacecraft distance is steadily increasing," NASA said.

"The Mars Mariners will be equipped with four solar panels as compared with two for Mariner II and the Ranger lunar impact spacecraft."

The 22-foot panels will unfold from the 9½-feet-tall spacecraft after passage through the earth's atmosphere.

'Happy' Wins First Round In Fight For Her Children

White Plains, N.Y. (UPI)—Mrs. Margaretta (Happy) Rockefeller won the first round Thursday of her court battle to save the "personality and health" of her four minor children by wrestling them from the custody of the husband she divorced to marry Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Gagliardi granted New York's first lady a trial on her petition for "absolute custody" of the children by her first marriage to Dr. James S. Murphy, a prominent research scientist. The trial will start Sept. 2 behind closed doors.

Mrs. Rockfeller, 36, charged that present custody by Murphy is "not in the best interest of the children" and claimed that "the personality and health of one or more of the infants are being adversely affected." Gagliardi said she would have to prove that "changed conditions" not only exist but make modification of the custody agreement necessary.

The former Philadelphia debutante surrendered custody of James, 13, Margaretta, 11, Carol 8, and Melinda, 4, when she divorced Murphy, 42, in Fairfield, Idaho, April 1, 1963, on grounds of "grievous mental anguish." She received visitation rights, and the children are currently staying with her at the Rockefeller estate near Tarrytown, N.Y.

She married Rockefeller, 56, a month after the divorce and has had a son by him. Murphy married Victoria Thompson, 28-year-old teacher of several of his children, last May and left the children with Mrs. Rockefeller during his honeymoon.

G.I. Considered By Manufacturer For Site Of Plant

Grand Island (UPI)—Grand Island is among six Nebraska and Kansas communities being considered by a heavy industrial manufacturer for a plant location.

The firm, the identity of which has not been revealed, would initially employ about 500 persons at its new plant.

A consultant representing the firm has contacted the Grand Island Industrial Foundation about information concerning the city and spent two full days gathering additional data from representatives of the Industrial Foundation, Chamber of Commerce, city and other officials.

William Marshall Jr., president of the Grand Island Industrial Foundation, said initially 27 midwestern cities were under consideration as a possible site for the plant. However, the firm now has narrowed the field to six cities, including Grand Island.

Republicans Hit Johnson Tally Sheet

Washington (UPI) — Republicans aimed their political guns Thursday at President Johnson's $3,484,098 family balance sheet and his conduct of the war in South Viet Nam.

Their candidate for president, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, got a salvo in return for his charges against administration defense policy.

Rep. Bob Dole, R-Kan., suggested to the House that the GOP buy out Johnson's holdings for what he said Wednesday they were worth.

"I am sure that we could then sell these same properties at a very good price, and use the profit to finance the campaign of Barry Goldwater," he said.

Dole said the broadcasting, real estate and other holdings of the Johnson family, from published accounts, "are generally valued from $10 million to $15 million."

Acceptable Methods

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., said the President's auditors "could very well" have used acceptable accounting methods in adding up the family's net worth. But at first glance, he said some of the entries seemed similar to the valuation of Manhattan Island when the Dutch bought it from the Indians for $24 in 1626.

Dirksen and House Republican Leader Charles Halleck, Ind., in their weekly radio and television show, said the Viet Nam war is beginning to look like what they called the "no win" Korean conflict because Johnson has his eye on the election instead of the national interest.

Dirksen said 263 Americans already have been killed in Viet Nam and billions of U.S. dollars poured into the fight. In spite of this, he said, the situation there "continues to go from bad to worse."

"More and more the Viet Nam conflict is beginning to resemble the incredible 'no win' war fought in Korea more than a decade ago," he said. "One by one the tragic mistakes of Korea are being repeated in South Viet Nam."

Halleck said the Republican leaders believe "that part of the confusion over American policy on Viet Nam can be attributed to a basic defect in the Johnson administration—it has one eye on the presidential election in November instead of both eyes on the affairs of this nation."

Advance Warning

The two also renewed Republican contentions that Johnson gave a "probable" advance warning to North Viet Nam in the Aug. 4 attack on communist torpedo boat bases in the Bay of Tonkin.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., charged Goldwater with a "gap in good sense" for his statements that U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons would decline 90% in the next decade because of a cutback in the construction of manned bombers.

"It is not good sense to equate the defense of this nation with a particular vehicle or a single service," Mansfield said.

NFO 'Minutemen' Go On Job

Corning, Iowa (AP) — Using "minutemen" to observe marketing activity, the National Farmers Organization (NFO) launched a 23-state drive Thursday to boost livestock prices by holding meat animals off the market.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., said his reports indicated livestock movements are "tightening up and coming pretty much to a standstill in many areas."

Most major terminal markets said their receipts were near normal for a Thursday, but Staley said reports from country buying stations showed hog shipments off sharply and cattle marketings down slightly.

"The terminal markets will, of course, shuffle around to make their receipts appear normal in an attempt to break the farmers' morale," Staley said. "They'll be listing their receipts as normal when we run out of meat."

Stage 'Park-In'

There were a few instances of NFO members massing to prevent truckers from hauling livestock to market, and at Marietta Ohio, members of the organization staged a "park-in" to block the loading docks and prevent unloading of cattle, NFO leaders said they would remain at the docks until the market closed for the night.

Most major markets, however said picketing was light and there was no violence. Staley said the so-called pickets were "minutemen" stationed there simply to report on market movements.

Near Fairmont, Minn., county NFO groups stationed themselves at principal highway intersections with cars bearing large signs: "NFO Holding Action Information Center. All Farmers Welcome."

George Matson of Trimont, Minn., state NFO president, said results of the holding action will not become apparent until current stocks are exhausted.

Farm Leaders Closely Watch Holding Action

Washington (AP)—Federal farm officials and leaders of other farm organizations watched closely Thursday a drive by the National Farmer's Organization to get farmers to withhold livestock from markets to force prices up. All were skeptical of the results.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had no comment. Neither had the American Farm Bureau Federation or the National Farmers Union.

But aides of Freeman indicated sympathy for the aim of the NFO to get better prices, even though they doubted the effort would succeed. The administration itself has been saying farm prices are too low to assure farm prosperity.

The National Grange also said it agrees with the goal of the NFO, but feels that the objective can be reached only through federal farm programs designed to help farmers balance production with demand.

Omaha's Livestock Market Reports 'Normal' Receipts

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha—Hogs and cattle were 25 to 50 cents higher a hundredweight here Thursday, but the Omaha livestock market was described as a normal Thursday on receipts with business as usual on the first day of the National Farmers Organization withholding action, according to Bob Cunningham, secretary of the Omaha Livestock Exchange.

Two questions seemed to be foremost to most of those contacted on the major market scene.

First, do NFO members have enough cattle numbers or hogs on feed to be a factor in changing market supplies?

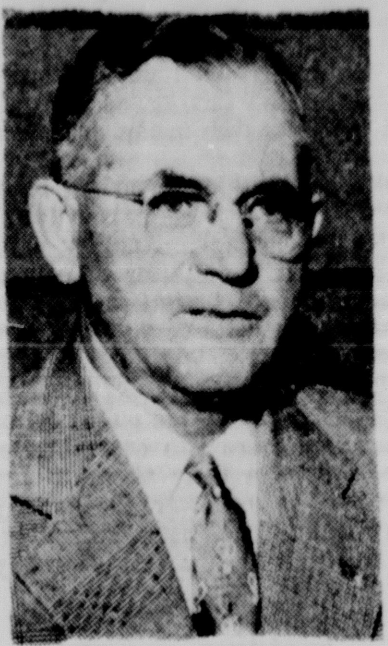
Non-members of the National Farmers Organization contended that one or two of the larger feedlots in the state would have more cattle than the entire state NFO membership would be withholding from market if they followed their national president, Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo. in his directive to farmers in 23 states to hold up marketing.

The second question dealt with the disputed success of a like holding action of nearly two years ago that after 33 days found a "recess" called on marketings that failed to make extensive dents in normal livestock sales.

Opponents of Staley point out that the previous holding action resulted in disruptions between members that caused one faction of the NFO to attempt unseating Staley in a national NFO convention.

Others who disagree with the NFO route call Staley's action "merely a means of sensationalizing the news" to keep his farm organization in the limelight.

Longtime Active Demo Frank Sorrell, 70, Dies



FRANK SORRELL

Syracuse (UPI) — Frank Sorrell, 70, of Syracuse, a colorful figure in Nebraska Democratic circles for many years, died Thursday following what appeared to be a heart attack. He was stricken following an Otoe County fair parade here.

Mr. Sorrell, who served as a state senator from the Legislature's second district from 1939 through 1945, was again nominated in the 1964 primary election. He was also a member of the 1940, 1944 and 1946 special legislative sessions, and was a candidate for election to the Unicameral in the November general election.

Mr. Sorrell had also sought statewide public office, running for governor in 1956 and for lieutenant governor two years later.

In the 1958 race for lieutenant governor, Mr. Sorrell lost out in a close battle with Dwight W. Burney of Hartington, the current GOP candidate for governor. Mr. Sorrell polled 197,849 votes, compared to 202,295 for Burney.

Some observers of the political scene felt that if Mr. Sorrell had sought the governor's job again in 1958 he well might have ended up winning. It was in 1958 that the late Ralph G. Brooks of McCook eked out victory over the late Victor E. Anderson in what has been described as one of the top political upsets in Nebraska's history.

Gov. Brooks later named Mr. Sorrell to the State Liquor Commission, a $7,000-per-year post. It was while holding this office that Mr. Sorrell became enmeshed in controversy.

Gov. Frank Morrison fired him from his liquor commission position, but Mr. Sorrell rebelled and said there were insufficient grounds for his dismissal.

It took a court order to force him to vacate his office.

The charge was that Mr. Sorrell had violated state law in acting as a real estate agent for two liquor licensees who came under the jurisdiction of the liquor commission.

Mr. Sorrell, at a hearing on the matter, said he was only trying to be helpful and that any services he rendered were "wholly gratuitous."

Mr. Sorrell was born in Gasconade County, Mo., on June 22, 1894, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Sorrell.

He came to Syracuse in 1914 and farmed until 1929. Later he went into the real estate business in Syracuse.

Mr. Sorrell and his first wife, who preceded him in death, had three children. His second wife, Emma Mae, died in April of last year.

Surviving are sons, Lt. Col. LaRue Sorrell of Florida, Leston of Lincoln and James, at home; stepsons, Dr. Michael Sorrell of Tecumseh and Dennis, U.S. Navy; daughter, Mrs. Etolia Rogers of Payette, Ida.; and 15 grandchildren.

Swanson Likely Candidate Now

The death of Frank Sorrell, 70, Syracuse, apparently placed Carl E. Swanson of Cass County into the general election race.

Swanson ran third in the primary, trailing Sorrell and Rick Budd of Nebraska City.

Deputy Secretary of State Paul Quinlan said it appeared that Swanson's name would now be added to the ballot.

A statute enacted by the 1963 Unicameral empowers the secretary of state's office to declare a vacancy in the case of a nominated candidate's death.

12-Year-Old Shows Champ Hog At Fair

By DAVE HENDRICKSON
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Wahoo—The grand champion 4-H market hog at the Saunders County Fair belongs to Dennis Pestal, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pestal of Wahoo.

Dennis was awarded the top ribbon Thursday in 4-H swine judging. Jackie Holtorf, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Holtorf of Cedar Bluffs, won honors for the top reserve champion hog.

Crowds were fairly heavy Thursday despite the rain and mud. The mud has bogged down fair-goers here since the opening day, and considerable rain Thursday afternoon didn't help matters.

Judging of 4-H beef exhibits went on as scheduled in the afternoon.

On Friday the fair schedule promises a dairy parade and judging of sheep and dairy exhibits; on Saturday, a 4-H livestock sale, a tractor-driving contest, and dress review judging.

Why more dentists now recommend Crest Toothpaste than ever before

New test results further confirm Crest's effectiveness against cavities.

Within the last month, results of the first test of Crest in Canada were announced. The results after two school years: a 42% reduction in cavities among first- and second-grade children vs. a similar group using Crest but without Fluoristan; a 39% reduction among seventh graders.

This study brings the number of Crest clinical tests to fifteen. The Crest Clinical Research Program, which began in 1952, has included thousands of children, teen-agers, and young adults. The Program has also included variations in brushing frequency and duration of tests.

This is why more dentists now recommend Crest than ever before.

Ask your dentist about Crest. Ask him how it can benefit your family's dental health. He may recommend Crest. If he does, it is because he knows you will use Crest as part of a good dental health program. One that includes regular checkups, watching between-meal treats, and brushing often.

Holding Action On Farm

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Once again, the National Farmers Organiztion is embarking upon a holding action of livestock in an effort to stimulate the price received by farmers for their products from processors. What it amounts to in simple language is refusal to market cattle and hogs until, as a result of the shortage created, the price of livestock goes up to a certain figure.

A Long Way To Go

The last time the NFO embarked upon such a program, it was only moderately succesfull. It reports it had fewer members then, however, and no experience with the kind of effort it was making. Also, the price of cattle at this time is already on the increase and factors contributing to this will be of further assistance to the new NFO program. But last May, the price of cattle had hit a low point that represented a substanial decline in the short period of a year. Thus, much ground remains to be picked up if the cattle industry is to regain the prosperity it has known in past times.

In the last NFO holding action, a series of incidents took place which led to some violence. It was not necessarily NFO violence and certainly not sanctioned by that organization but it is hoped that nothing such as that happens again this time. The NFO and its members are free to pursue whatever course they set for themselves but only so long as it does not infringe on the same rights for other citizens.

There is a certain point of public interest that will not be served by this NFO holding action and a point at which such interest is served. In attempting to stabilize the price of livestock at a point with which farmers can comfortably live, some increase at the retail price level can be expected.

This, however, is not automatically against the public interest. The price the NFO seeks on cattle is only slightly higher than was the actual price about 18 months ago. Thus, any increase at the retail level as a result of the holding action would reflect higher costs somewhere other than the stockyards price of cattle. Also, it is in the public interest for the farmer to receive a fair price for his products. It is a fact worth repeating more than is done that the American farmer as a whole is the best customer American business and industry has. The equipment alone that a farmer must buy goes a long way toward keeping the wheels of industry spinning. If price declines eliminate the farmer as a buyer of industrial products, the urban areas are badly hurt.

The really costly thing to urban interests is a retail price that reflects a losing proposition for the farmer. Another point of public interest in the matter of control over the food that is essential to feed the nation. It can be said with some merit that a situation in which the flow of food to market was controlled by such an organization as the NFO would not be in the public interest. Food and water are two essentials of life and the power to deny them to the American people is a power that really should be in the hands of no organization. This, however, is a theory full of many practical holes.

One curious fact is that the NFO is not the only farm organization that seeks a united farm front for the distribution of agricultural products. The Farm Bureau is politically and philosophically directly the opposite of the NFO but it seeks, in the end, exactly the same objective.

One difference is that the Farm Bureau advocates policies that, in the opinion of many, would break the farmer before that organization's plans could be brought to fruition. But it is strange to see people who will condemn the NFO but speak loudly in favor of the Farm Bureau.

Within And Without

While there are dangers to an organizational control over farm products, this is the exact end to which agriculture is being pushed from all sides as well as from within itself. The only other answer is independent and prosperous small farms, and the American people have long ago decided against the continuation of this kind of farm setup. Congress is on the road against farm programs, pushed by many interests in agriculture itself· thus leaving large-scale and highly organized operations as the only alternative in the rural areas of America.

One cannot condemn the NFO and its efforts to ultimately control the flow of farm products to market without first condemning many other organizations and a host of currently popular ideas. At this particular time, the outcome of the NFO holding action will undoubtedly depend on the number and loyalty of its members, a matter with which there is not universal agreement.

Overplaying The Hand

What seems to be a rather consistent mistake on the part of Russia may have been made again in the case of Cyprus. Just as the Cyprus question rose to a climax between Greece and Turkey and these Western powers seemed on the verge of all-out war, Russia stepped in and offered to help Cyprus ward off any attack from the outside.

Presumably, Russia would have come to the aid of Cyprus and Greece had the island been attacked by either Turkey or the United States, the latter in an effort to return the area to peace. This heavy-handed action by Russia has been followed by considerable improvement in the situation in the Mediterranean.

At this time, both Greece and Turkey are returning troops that had been sent to the Cyprus area back to the NATO positions they had previously occupied. There has been assurance that the Turkish contingents on Cyprus will not be starved out as it appeared at one time might happen. There is growing talk on both sides of a settlement of the conflict that exists.

Other factors have no doubt been involved but the Russian action undoubtedly shocked both Greece and Turkey into a realization of how explosive a situation they were courting. Had Russia not entered the picture, the issue between Geece and Turkey might have been drawn so firmly that the NATO alliance would have crumbled.

Of course, the matter is not yet completely settled and it will be up to historians of the future to put the Cyprus issue in its true perspective but there is reason to believe that we can thank Russia for another international blunder. And we might recognize for our own good the dangers that are inherent in excessive reliance upon the force of arms.

Bernard Baruch Speaks

Bernard Baruch just turned 94 and, as has been his custom for many years, he used his birthday to give a piece of advice to the nation.

"I don't want to dwell on the past," he observed. "Today and tomorrow concern me more than yesterday."

He then went on to say, "It seems to me our country's problems, domestic and foreign, are today more complex and difficult than any we have known in the past.

"Yet despite these problems and perils, the future holds out infinite possibilities and promises for the perfection of democracy and for the improvement of life not only in this country but in every land."

It was good to hear Mr. Baruch's voice again. It was as good as hearing once again the deep throated whistle of the old steam train reliably pursuing its way in the night toward town from back in the hills. Mr. Baruch does not give bad advice. It is not that he was a financial wizard that makes his words bear weight. It is that he has that rare inborn capacity never to lose sight of fundamentals. He does not get worked up and suggest rash short range answers. He is deeply committed to the American principle and the years have served to strengthen that position. His latest piece of advice should have a calming effect.

Truly the nation has complicated problems and perils. But that is because it has become a world leader. And world leaders have always had such problems. But the counterbalancing factor is we have the strength to face and solve the problems.

The Congo cannot be made into a thriving, modern nation in a day and certainly it can never be if the short range people become trigger happy. Nor can the rest of the troubled world right itself in a month or a year. But a well founded, just and enlightened society, if it does not throw away its essence, will inevitably cruise through the vicissitudes and let its light so shine upon a new and better day for all. All Americans need the faith of Mr. Baruch.

The Union's Own Fault

Already facing two prison terms, and convicted of misuse of union funds Jimmy Hoffa is still president of the Teamsters Union and is apt to remain so for at least another two years.

This is the fault of all the union members reflecting their unwillingness or inability to exercise their democratic powers to clean up their union government.

They have tolerated two successive dictatorships, that of Dave Beck for three years and Hoffa for the next seven. The Department of Justice had to remove Beck by sending him to prison. It has now spent upward of $500,000 in its efforts to catch up with Hoffa. This is the price the public is paying for something the union itself should do for nothing.

This is an aggravated lesson from which all Americans should learn. It is that being born in a democracy is in itself no protection of democratic rights, and, the honesty and cleanness of any society is achieved by the constant vigilance of its members. A poor exercise of the duties of membership is an invitation to dictatorship and scandal.

The Teamsters union is fortunate that it exists within the framework of a nation which can bring justice by law. It has done so twice for the Teamsters at great cost in public funds and unless the union itself shoulders its own burdens it will have to do it again and again. This is a rank imposition and it is up to union members to prove that they have a right to an organization, which means attention enough to business to provide a law abiding, honorable governing body.

The union has been greatly weakened by its surrender of responsibilities and in doing so has greatly harmed the labor movement. It has no one to blame but itself. And it is time that it faced up to the fact.

LBJ Confronted By 'Right Choice'

WASHINGTON — Early in this administration, when a friend asked President Johnson whom he wanted for his running mate, he replied:

"When I sent Sargent Shriver to Jerusalem with a message to the Pope, people thought I was grooming him for vice president. When I sent Bobby Kennedy to Indonesia with a letter to Sukarno, people thought I was grooming him. And now that I'm talking to Hubert Humphrey about civil rights, people think I am grooming him.

"But I'm not grooming anyone," concluded the President.

The fact is that he isn't. But he has given a lot of thought to the vice presidency. He knows that Democratic leaders, the American public, even most of the world are waiting to see who the man will be, and the President is embarrassed by the fact that so many grade A candidates are available. Some of them are very close friends of his who may be offended if they are passed over.

According to close advisers, here is how the President's thoughts have been running on the No. 1 political guessing game:

One clincher which put the finish on Bobby Kennedy as a candidate was a conversation LBJ had with his old friend, Gov. John Connally of Texas, who told him that the Democratic party couldn't possibly carry Texas if Bobby were on the ticket.

"We won by 46,000 before," Connally told the president, "but if Bobby is on the ticket, I can't be re-elected governor. Yarborough would lose. Everybody would lose.

"I like Bobby," Gov. Connally continued. "My wife and his wife spent some time together and enjoy each other. But if he's on the ticket, we're sunk."

☆ ☆ ☆

In taking Bob Kennedy out of the race, the President also took out the entire cabinet, including a man whom he has come to rely on more and more, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

The President considers him the most liberal member of the cabinet, and more of a college professor than a big businessman. Labor doesn't realize how liberal McNamara is and therefore might not have voted for him, but the South likes him, partly because he is a former Ford president.

Before the President ruled out McNamara, however, Democratic leaders were protesting that he was a Republican, not a Democrat. "What's wrong with the Democratic party," asked Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, "if we can't groom our own vice president?" Nevertheless, the President has frequently wished there were a way to get his secretary of defense back in the vice presidential picture.

Veep And South Are Demo Concerns

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson, the president, and Lyndon Johnson, the politician, are approaching what his fellow ranchers call the lick log and the Hemingway fans call the moment of truth on the vice-presidency.

President Johnson has publicly conceded that he may be choosing the next president. He outlined a series of splendid qualifications for his potential successor which will be hard to embody in one fallible human being.

Politician Johnson has been touching bases with all faces of his support with respect to their preferences. This is his habit, and he has even added an extra flourish. He asks each of the men mentioned as leading possibilities about the others.

There is no reason to suppose that he is not in earnest in both roles. Victory in November is and should be his aim. No one, except possibly Harry Truman, knows better the magnitude of the White House burden which a vice-president may suddenly have to assume.

☆ ☆ ☆

Considering its size and diversity, his party is giving him little trouble in a matter which concerns them so deeply. The Southerners are trying to exert their usual veto power on the choice, but it is far from the kind of violent effort they have mounted in the past. After all, they have a Southern president, and then they know their Lyndon and could well fear a backfire.

The always — and sometimes agonizingly — articulate liberals have been unusually discreet. This, too, is wise.

The place, in fact, where the twain are threatening not to meet is the credentials committee of the convention. The platform is a mere word exercise framed as an assault upon the conservative Republican candidates, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William Miller.

But the wrangle between the "regular" Democrats and the predominantly Negro group called the "Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party" is headed for an acrimonious showdown at Atlantic City. The extra ingredient is the emotion aroused by the civil rights murders in Mississippi. Big-state delegations want to discuss the murders, not the technicalities.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President reviewed the situation privately for more than an hour with Sen. Hubert Humphrey, director of the civil rights fight and favorite of much of the party organization outside the South for vice-president. Humphrey's apparent task is to persuade the liberals to go along on some compromise.

Several have been suggested. One is to bar both delegations which would probably suit nobody. The other is to seat both and split the state vote evenly. The South will be cool to that.

Convention managers will go far to avoid letting the issue go to the floor where passions might be torn to tatters to the detriment of victory in November.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

The Battle Of Bull Thistle

By MONA B. PARKER

As if we didn't have enough misery, now it seems as if a new weed is looming big on the rural horizon. Maybe not completely new, but at least gaining unwanted prominence. Several publications have expressed concern about the bull or musk thistle.

Many reports have been coming into the Custer County District about the plant there. County Agent Bill Pederson describes its spread to the extent that it is now "one of the most serious robbers of our good rich rangeland." And the job of eradication, he warns, becomes tougher and more expensive every time another plant produces seed.

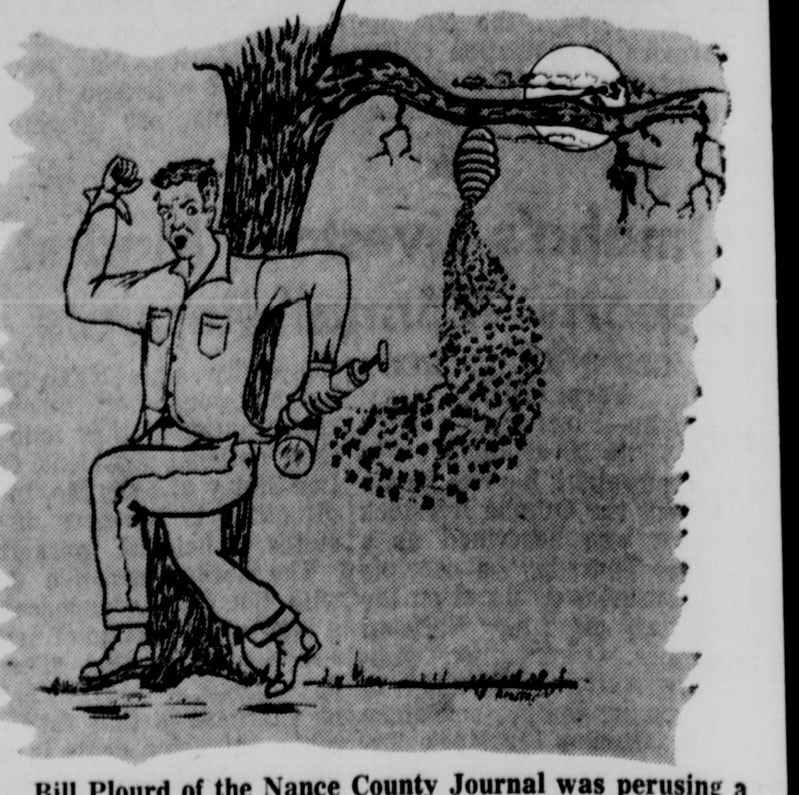
The Laurel Advocate explains, too, that its chief threat is in the future because so many farmers and land-owners are ignoring it now. It's the one with "pretty purple flowers" and it grows everywhere. The Advocate says complete pastures have been taken over by it. And it has the nasty reproductive system of the dandelion. Seeds from the thistle are carried through the air by the wind. Thus if one farmer has bull thistles, soon his neighbors are similarly blessed.

Had they been cocklebures, the Advocate is sure they would have been cut at once.

☆ ☆ ☆

Jake Weyer of Barneston found something of a rarity even among cocklebures. It was a matured plant with two burrs on the stalk and it was discovered on the 20th of June. Mr. Weyer has been farming for over 50 years and has never seen one matured so early in the year. Usually they do not reach full growth until late August or early September. It is his opinion that it means an early fall and exceptionally cold winter.

☆ ☆ ☆



Bill Plourd of the Nance County Journal was perusing a government bulletin, when he noted a recommendation for extermination of wasps by spraying their nests at night when they can't see you. "If it's all the same to the government, I'll take the daytime for this job. I want to be able to see them."

Harold Spence of the Holdrege Citizen has it from a friend that there is no satisfaction quite like that which comes to him when he is drying dishes and finds a fork that is not quite clean and tosses it back in the sink for the wife to do over again.

We wonder, perhaps, if Mr. Spence is not using the famous Calvin Coolidge technique here, if perhaps "the friend" might not be the illustrious editor himself who doesn't want readers to know that he is occasionally—or even frequently—or even every evening—conned into drying the dishes.

Mr. Coolidge was famed for his "White House spokesman" gimmick.

The Hastings Tribune's society department received a wedding write-up that was exceedingly rich in detail of every aspect of the ceremony —paragraphs and paragraphs and paragraphs of description about this and that.

Only one small detail, in fact, had been omitted. The groom's name.

A friend of Rufus Olson's, Blair Pilot-Tribune, made rather a profitable trip to the bank. In one of the rolls of nickels he obtained for change was a five-cent piece worth $30.

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. Tariffs

Adams, Neb.

The first requisite for a prosperous condition in agriculture in this nation is that the nation as a whole be prosperous and that its commerce and trade with other countries of the world be growing and flourishing.

From time immemorial, the leading traders of the world have been nations that made it easy for commerce to move both ways with as few restrictions as possible. The free cities were such an example during the Middle Ages. In 1928 Herbert Hoover was elected president, also a Republican Congress. At that time the United States of America and the nations of Europe were enjoying a period of great prosperity. One of the first acts of Mr. Hoover's administration was the passage of the Tariff Act raising the duties on goods imported into the United States from European countries. These countries soon retaliated and raised their tariffs on goods coming from the United States. Higher duties both ways resulted in a steady decline of commerce. We stopped shipping lard to Germany. They stopped buying from us. Today, in 1964, we have not recovered that market.

As of May, 1964, we have had a commission in Europe negotiating with the Common Market countries in an endeavor to reduce tariffs and increase trade between those countries and this country. What better way to torpedo this conference than for Congress to go ahead and at this time place restrictions on the importation of meat into this country? To summarily remove that question from the hands of the negotiators would undoubtedly cause resentment in the Common Market countries and lead to another tariff war.

In 1931 I sold wheat for 29½ cents per bushel, hogs for $2.25 per cwt., and steers for $3 per cwt., largely the result of a tariff war.

I don't think Senators Curtis and Hruska give a tinker's dam about Nebraska farmers and cattlemen. Raise the tariffs, do away with trade and pretty soon we will be right back where we were in 1932. Ten-cent corn and three-dollar hogs. Cheap food. Cheap meat. And no one with money to buy. People starving in a land of abundance, with no money and no work. Do we want to go back to those conditions.

It would be mighty nice to have a bank that just paid out money and never took in any money, and that would work about as well as a country that wants all exports and no imports. The best interests of the Nebraska farmer and cattlemen call for support of the conference with the Common Market countries and not for the initiation of a tariff war.

The President would be justified in vetoing such a tariff act raising duties at this time.

Behind The Scenes

We read that, according to recent American visitors, in the Soviet Union champagne is available everywhere and costs very little. In retail shops, the people must stand in three lines, the people in general are poorly dressed, and most of the cities are "drab."

A tourist can't always see what is behind the scene or the reason it is so. To the people who lived under the Reds and escaped to the free world, many things are clear.

On the very day when the Red army occupies a country, the Reds provide it with liquor, obtainable at all times. Why? In order to give the new regime a good look and to open the mouths of all anti-Reds. The secret police, the famous NKVD, know what to do with them.

The three lines in a shop? Beside the shortage of groceries, they are mainly for control. And the fact that people are poorly dressed and the cities are drab can be explained by the fact that all goes to heavy industry and armament. The needs of the masses are generally neglected. "You have rags, we have tanks," replied the soldiers of the Red army, entering the Baltic states.

Caril Fugate

Lincoln, Neb.

Answering the letter from "N. M." of Utica, Nebraska, Caril Fugate may or may not have made a bad mistake, but surely she is entitled to all the rights given to each and every citizen of the United States of America.

Her wanting to be a nurse shows that she is a person who wants to save lives, not take them. I am sure there are plenty of people who will accept her, for not all people have the attitude that "N. M." has. God let her live and I am sure He is a better judge of people than "N. M." is.

H. R.

Lincoln, Neb.

I read the feature story about Caril Fugate and I was pretty well pleased with her attitude. I have also noticed a couple of letters in the Five Cents Worth column, condemning her and saying she should get down on her knees and ask forgiveness. She probably has done this several times over the years.

As far as her wanting to get out to be a nurse, I feel if she wants to be a nurse, that shows she wants to help. One letter writer wanted to know who would want Caril for a nurse. Well, I would. I think the girl should be given a chance to prove herself and show she knows right from wrong.

I knew her grandmother and all her family. I think she should be given a chance. Maybe I am wrong, but I can't see it. I am for Caril.

TEXAN ENTERS 2 GUILTY PLEAS

Robert L. Barrow, 42-year-old Texan, entered guilty pleas Thursday to charges of robbing the GAC Finance Corp. Tuesday and shooting Police Detective Lyle Bigley when the officer tried to arrest him.

Barrow pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court before Judge Bartlett E. Boyles. He was brought into the courtroom in a wheelchair with a cast encasing most of his left leg and another one on his right hand.

Both Barrow and Bigley were hospitalized following the shooting which occurred at a motel where Barrow and a woman companion, Mrs. Lidia Veliz, 21, were registered. Bigley was released from the hospital Thursday after a .22 slug was removed from his chin and a shoulder injury treated.

Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas noted during the arraignment that the robbery charge carries a penalty of from three to 50 years in prison, and the shooting with intent to kill charge carries a one to 20-year term.

Barrow's sentencing was deferred pending investigation by the adult probation officer and he was transferred to the State Penitentiary hospital for safe-keeping.

Mrs. Veliz has not yet entered a plea to charges of being an accomplice to the daylight holdup of the finance company.

Turks Send Two Planes Over Cyprus

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — Two Turkish planes flew over the coast of Cyprus late Thursday after a brisk outbreak of communal fighting near the town of Ktima and momentarily broke a U.N. cease-fire, Cyprus military headquarters charged Thursday.

A statement said the planes flew over the Kokkina area, the last Turkish Cypriot enclave on the northwest coast. In response to a U.N. appeal, Turkey announced Aug. 12 it would suspend reconnaissance flights for the time being. But Turkey warned it would keep close watch for new attacks by Greek Cypriots on Turkish Cypriots.

In Nicosia, the U.N. peace force put on an unusual show of strength. It sent a heavily armed task force that ripped apart three Turkish Cypriot sandbagged positions on the narrow line separating the hostile Turk and Greek communities. The U.N. wants to broaden the zone to lessen the chances of incidents.

The fighting near Ktima in southwest Cyprus went on for an hour, temporarily shattering the fragile cease-fire obtained by the United Nations. Whether the reported reconnaissance flight of Turkish planes had anything to do with the resumption of fighting was not known.

U.N. personnel said the brisk gunfight ranged around two villages and that there apparently were no casualties. U.N. officers were investigating.

In Nicosia, the Greek Cypriot Interior Ministry complained that Turkish Cypriots captured "three senior Greek Cypriot officials."

A Turkish Cypriot spokesman confirmed the capture, but said two of the three were mainland Greeks, and said they were taken when they drove through a little village on the northwest coast of Cyprus brandishing weapons.

Greek Defense Minister Petros Garoufalias flew here Thursday night for what he termed an inspection of the 950-strong Greek army contingent based in Cyprus. He said he will have talks with President Makarios, but denied rumors he would try to persuade the Greek Cypriot leader to reject an offer from the Soviet Union of military aid.

Garoufalias told the Greek Cypriot army commander, Gen. George Grivas, that eventual "enosis (union with Greece) is a sure thing."

The U.N. task force's attack was the strongest show of force on Cyprus yet by the peace-keeping unit.

Sen. Thompson Expects 'Positive' Power Advice

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Don Thompson of McCook Thursday said he expects his Legislative Council public power study committee to propose "some positive recommendations" for power legislation to the 1965 Unicameral.

Thompson declined to speculate on what the proposals might be, nor did he care to make public his own recommendations at this time.

The committee met with Frederick W. Muller of Billings, Mont., chief of the power marketing and sales branch of Region 6 of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, to receive a briefing on USBR allotments to Nebraska.

Thompson said the committee has probably finished taking testimony from power officials and is about ready to receive specific recommendations from the Nebraska Power Review Board.

Will Meet Again

The committee will meet again when attorney general's opinions requested by the senators have been received.

The committee has requested a legal opinion on whether municipalities may use revenue from their electric utilities for civic purposes other than electric operation and maintenance.

In addition, the request asks whether a public power agency may rebate to cities portions of the electric revenue collected within municipalities, as proposed by Consumers Public Power District.

The committee also asked an opinion on a plan to reorganize the boards of directors of the Nebraska Public Power System into a single board.

No Opinion

Muller declined to offer an opinion on which proposed transmission tie to additional USBR power would be most advantageous for the state.

Proposals include a 230-kilovolt line from Fort Randall to Grand Island and a west-end 230-KV tie from near Gering to North Platte.

Committee members also discussed the possibility of seeking a USBR study of Nebraska's future generation and transmission needs, but dismissed the suggestion. Muller said he could not discuss such a proposal.

Study Shows Shifts In Demands For Teachers

A comprehensive study of teacher placement at the University of Nebraska from 1871 to the present has revealed a number of recent and long-range changes in the demands for graduating seniors in Teachers College.

In a doctoral thesis completed this year at the University by Dr. Walter W. Parks, superintendent of the Ord Public Schools, the following trends were noted:

—More than 25,000 requests are now made annually for University of Nebraska trained teachers with out-of-state requests exceeding Nebraska requests by a nine-to-one ratio.

--Sixty per cent of those placed in teaching positions, however, are employed in Nebraska.

–Areas of shortest supply are in the fields of mathematics, science, and English. A small surplus of teacher personnel exists only in the area of school administration.

Parks found that in the decade from 1953 to the present there has been a continuous and very rapid increase in the demand for beginning teachers. Requests for 5,550 students were made in 1953, compared with 26,737 requests in 1963.

One of the greatest needs at present is for teachers in the elementary grades, Parks noted. While there are eight secondary teacher graduates for every five who wish to teach in the elementary grades, the requests come in reverse proportions.

Among the long-range trends noted is that of the increasing number of beginning male teachers available at the University of Nebraska. In 1926, 19% of the total registrants were men in comparison with 50.1% of the total in 1963.

Parks credited higher salaries and additional pay increments available to men as a major factor in the change. "While marriage improves the tenure of men teachers, it quite often ends a career for a woman," Parks noted.

State Aeronautics Licensing Drops Tightening Proposal

The State Aeronautics Department has dropped for the time being a proposal to tighten licensing requirements for air taxi operators in Nebraska.

The Nebraska State Railway Commission had scheduled a hearing on the new regulations for Thursday but it has been postponed indefinitely at the request of state Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt.

Railway Commission Chairman Wayne Swanson of Omaha Thursday noted that under the present requirements applicants merely have to show their federal air taxi operator certificate and proof of insurance to be licensed in Nebraska.

The proposed change would have forced new applicants to show how granting them a license would serve the public convenience and necessity.

There are around 60 licensed air taxi operators in Nebraska. They mostly operate chartered flights in small planes between small and isolated communities and larger cities which have regular commercial air service.

Sandstedt said the proposed changes were drawn up with "the idea to strenghthen the air taxi operations."

But he said several pilot organizations objected to any revision at this time and he agreed to withdraw the proposed changes after meeting with them.

Sandstedt said it is possible the 1965 legislature will be asked to legislate on air taxi operations in the state.

Sandstedt said, "I made the decision to at this time leave things as they are."

Corporation Asks Bottle Club Okay

An application for a bottle club license for the proposed Flamingo Supper Club at 10th and Arapahoe has been made to the State Liquor Commission.

The City Council is expected to schedule a public hearing on the application in making its recommendation to the commission.

Applicant is Commercial Enterprises Inc., whose president is Edwin J. Miller of Lincoln. Other officers and directors are William F. Ferris, South Sioux City, Ia. and Harold, Norman, Kenneth and Densil Christiansen, all of Pender.

The corporation proposes construction of a 110-by-120 building with a piano bar, lounge and dining area.

NURSING SCHOOLS DELAY HASTINGS EVALUATION

By United Press International

Nursing schools in the Omaha-Lincoln area Thursday were adopting a "wait and see" attitude toward Hastings State Hospital and its loss of national accreditation.

Hospital officials revealed Wednesday that the accreditation had been revoked by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Last year alone, 223 student nurses received training at the hospital.

In Omaha, a spokesman for the Bishop Clarkson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing said a decision on continuing to send nurses to Hastings would be delayed until it can be determined if the hospital will win reinstatement.

The spokesman said school officials were "concerned" with the loss of accreditation and would have to deliberate further to determine if they should continue to send nurse trainees to the hospital.

The Bishop Clarkson School annually sends between 35 and 40 nurses to Hastings for training.

At Lincoln, the nursing education department at Bryan Memorial Hospital said it will have to check with nursing school accrediting agencies to get more detailed information on the situation. All nurse trainees at Bryan take their three months of psychiatric training at Hastings. They number between 30 and 40 annually.

An official at Lincoln General Hospital said the hospital had received a letter from the Hastings hospital advising of the loss of accreditation. However, the letter expressed confidence that the hospital would be re-accredited by next spring.

Lincoln General sends between 40 and 50 trainees to Hastings for their psychiatric training every year.

UAW POSTPONES PICKING TOP TARGET

Chicago (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union, pledging every effort to avoid a walkout in the nation's auto industry, postponed Thursday the selection of a No. 1 strike target among General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union's international executive board will hold a special meeting Wednesday in Detroit to review the status of negotiations at that time.

The board, Reuther told newsmen, will receive reports on strike votes now in progress at each of the three companies and, if necessary, act upon requests for strike authorization made Thursday morning by UAW councils representing assembly-line workers.

"No doubt the workers will vote overwhelmingly for strike authorization," Reuther said.

"If the companies persist in their present offer, there will be a strike," he warned.

Statement

In a statement issued by the 25-member board, the union declared:

"We do not want a strike, and we shall continue to make every good faith effort at the bargaining table to avoid a strike.

"However, we must state in all good conscience and we are obligated to serve notice on these three wealthy corporations that their present, narrow, selfish policy must yield to reason and equity."

Otherwise, the board said, the UAW will have "no other cause open except to resort to strike action."

In Detroit, Ford, GM and Chrysler declined comment on the union's action in postponing the selection of a strike target.

'Inadequate'

Virtually identical proposals from the big three automakers were rejected by the union Monday as "inadequate."

The proposal—described by one company spokesman as "the most generous we have ever made"—called for higher wages, larger pensions and earlier retirement.

Hoig Explains Problems Of New Pay Plan

The Pershing Municipal Auditorium board met Wednesday with Mayor Dean Petersen and Personnel Director Walt Mitchell regarding the new city employee job classification and pay plan.

Auditorium Manager Ike Hoig advised that the auditorium payroll would increase under the 40-hour work week plan.

He urged that key employees, whose work week exceeds 40 hours, be classified as executives. These would include the concessions manager, building superintendent and engineer.

Hoig said auditorium events often require work weeks over 40 hours for key employees.

"There's a good chance the auditorium books will show a break-even year on Aug. 31," he said.

But he said he advised the board that the new job plan and 40-hour week for city employees would boost operating costs during the next fiscal year.

No public notice of the special board meeting was given the city clerk as required by city charter.

Eunice Shriver Is Hospitalized

Philadelphia (UPI) — Mrs. Eunice K. Shriver, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, was hospitalized Thursday after she was taken ill while en route to International Airport at the end of a visit with retarded children here.

University of Pennsylvania Hospital said the wife of Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver was in satisfactory condition but would not disclose her ailment. A spokesman said Mrs. Shriver would undergo tests but did not specify the type.

Mrs. Shriver complained of severe back pain as she was being taken in a city limousine to the airport by Recreation Commissioner Robert W. Crawford.

When the pain persisted as the car arrived at the airport, it was decided to take Mrs. Shriver to a hospital. Crawford obtained a taxcab which took her to University Hospital.

Morrison To Review 67th Infantry At Camp

Camp Ripley, Minn. (AP)—More than 2,500 of the 67th Infantry Brigade of the Nebraska National Guard will mark two firsts when they pass in review before Gov. Morrison and other dignitaries at the Governor's Day parade Friday afternoon.

It will be the first time that all of the men in the Nebraska Guard will be marching together in a single unit.

And guardsmen, normally used to parading on the Saturday midway between the weeks' summer training, will find themselves counting cadence on a Friday.

Lt. Col. John R.M. Stephenson, brigade executive officer, explained that the new parade day fits in well with the training schedule and will allow a Saturday morning troop inspection.

The Saturday inspection, a tough checking of men and equipment by guard officers, was eliminated when the parade was held on Saturday.

The other first, bringing all Nebraska guardsmen for summer training, resulted from the 1963 reorganization which created the 67th Brigade.

In addition to Gov. Morrison, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson and 18 state senators will attend Governor's Day ceremonies. The governor is scheduled to arrive at 1 p.m. in a guard C47 airplane.

Military dignitaries will include Brig. Gen. William F. Bachman, brigade commander; Maj. Gen. Warren Wood (retired), former commander of the 34th Infantry Division; Maj. Gen. Lloyd D. Moses, deputy commander of the Fifth Army, and Maj. Gen. Kermit Davis, commander of the 16th Army Corps in Omaha.

Two Get Terms In Penal Complex

Donald D. Warren, 29, received a one-year term in the Nebraska Penal Complex after pleading guilty in Lancaster District Court to charges of leaving the state while on parole.

The sentence will run consecutively to the remainder of his one-to-two year term for issuing a forged instrument.

Allen W. Clark, 18, of Fairfield, Calif., was sentenced to a six-month term in county jail on the amended complaint of being an accessory after the fact.

Charges arose from Clark's part in a gunpoint holdup of a filling station at the Crete corner on U.S. 77.

Both sentences were handed down by District Court Judge Bartlett E. Boyles.

Petersen: Revamp Code, Then Add Inspectors

Mayor Dean Petersen said Thursday that two additional housing inspectors could be added later even though the City Council didn't appropriate funds in the 1964-65 city budget.

"We can always add the inspectors at a later date when the minimum housing code is revamped," he said.

he said he felt that the council favors improvement of housing standards, and the inspectors shouldn't be added until an enforcement program is ready to go.

The new budget includes funds for the proposed position of superintendent of inspections, including building, air heating and housing.

The city is seeking an architect or registered engineer for the post.

If the housing inspectors are employed later with council approval, transfer of funds within the budget is possible through council and administration action.

In addition to non-enforcement of the 1946 minimum standards housing code as to existing dwellings, the city building inspection department has not made final inspections and issued occupancy permits as required by the municipal code because of lack of manpower.

Miss Hesson also was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Jacob Wertz and Mrs. Herman King were co-hostesses in the parlors of the First Methodist Church.

A wedding on Sunday, Aug. 30, is being planned by Miss Jane Elaine Bernhardt, whose betrothal to James Reese Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Johnson, was announced earlier this summer.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 3 o'clock, at Frieden's Lutheran Church, and for her maid of honor, Miss Bernhardt has chosen her fiance's sister, Miss Nancy Johnson.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bernhardt, also has named Miss Bonnie Brown and Miss Rosemarie Jacobs as bridesmaids, and her junior bridesmaid will be Miss Tamara Hathaway.

Lighting the chancel candles will be Mrs. Gary Haas and Mrs. Robert L. Johnston, and Miss Carla Jean Hartshorn will be flower girl. Clayton Hathaway will be the ringbearer.

Serving Mr. Johnson as best man will be Mick Robinson and the ushers will include the bride-elect's brother, Terry Bernhardt, Fred Jesse and Earl True.

On Friday evening, Aug. 28, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Johnson will honor their son and his fiancee at a rehearsal dinner. The guests, who will include members of the bridal party and family, have been invited to the Johnson home.

Miss Karen Lee Jewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jewett, will become the bride of Loren Loibl on Saturday, Aug. 29, at a ceremony to be solemnized at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Honoring the bride-to-be recently was Miss Linda Spaulding, who entertained neighbors of the honoree at an evening dessert at her home. During the informal party, a kitchen shower was presented to Miss Jewett.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last Saturday I attended my cousin's wedding. It was a beautiful wedding, held in our church. During the ceremony the minister told the bride and groom he hoped that they would keep up their spiritual connections with the church. Then he started bawling out all the guests because they came to church only when they wanted some service performed, such as a marriage or a christening, but that they never bothered about Sunday morning services. It made the guests very uncomfortable. Do you think this was the proper time for the minister to have brought up that subject? What was the matter with him anyway?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: He was probably captivated by his captive audience. Forgive him, for it shall be said that even a minister becomes sorely wearied of a depleted flock.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who divorced his first wife on the grounds of adultery. All this took place before I met him. For some reason, which I have never been able to figure out, my husband's sister has kept up her friendship with my husband's "X."

What really irritates me is having my sister-in-law bring up my husband's "X" in every conversation. I've never met the "X" and have no interest in her or her activities. How can I put a stop to it without creating a family fight?

NO FIGHTER

DEAR NO: Tell your sister-in-law you want no more news of your husband's "X." If she persists, X her off your list.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl 14 years of age, who weighs about 30 pounds too much, go about getting the weight off?

NEEDS IT

DEAR NEEDS: The same way a girl (or boy) of ANY age goes about it. First, she sees a doctor. Then she does exactly what the doctor tells her to do.

Busy Delegates Relax At Party

One of the musical high spots of the Mu Phi Epsilon convention was the Sterling Staff auditions held on Thursday afternoon. In the picture, from the left, are Josephine Levine, conductor of the Omaha Symphony Orchestra; Mrs. Scott Severns (Theodate Johnson—sister of Phillip Johnson who designed the Sheldon Art Museum) and Joseph Egger, conductor of the Midland Orchestral Society and of the Midland Symphony, Midland, Mich.

National conventions are not held just for the fun of it. There always is considerable serious business such as work shops, panel discussions and the variety of business-at-hand activity that shapes the destiny of any organization.

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, is in convention in Lincoln until next Tuesday. This is the sorority's 37th national convention, and it also is its first International convention.

There is, as we mentioned, plenty of work to be done, but fortunately there also is a little play. Honoring the delegates, the national officers and council, the hostess chapters entertained at a Western Barbecue on Thursday evening at the Lincoln Country Club.

On Thursday afternoon the Sterling Staff auditions were held at the Nebraska Center.

TOWN TALK

Before we delve into the news of a bride-elect and her courtesies, and before we relay some news from Washington, D.C., we want to make mention of a guest foursome that arrived on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. White and their two daughters, Cathy and Beth, came from Kewanee, Ill., on Thursday to remain until Sunday as the guests of Mr. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White.

* * *

The bride we have in mind is Miss Sally Botsford whose marriage to Robert A. Degenhardt, will be solemnized on Friday evening, Sept. 4, at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal.

On Wednesday evening Miss Botsford was complimented by Mrs. Ray Rosenow who entertained at a dessert supper and a personal shower at her home.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Harold Nootz and her daughter, Miss Carol Nootz will pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss Botsford when they are hostesses at a kitchen shower at their home.

* * *

Our news from Washington involves Miss Margaret Shannon, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Jasper B. Shannon of Lincoln.

Miss Shannon, a senior history major at Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky., is spending the summer as an intern in the White House Seminar Program.

Our story has to do with the fact that she was the guest of President and Mrs. Johnson at a State dinner at the White House when Secretary-General U Thant was the honored guest. Also at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Chet Huntley, Mr. and Mrs. David Brinkley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cronkite, Sen. and Mrs. Everett Dirksen, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Peck — and other notables from the fields of broadcasting, government and theater.

Miss Shannon, we are told, wore a long gown of black crepe, with double back panels which were caught at the shoulder and extended to the floor.

Why Grow Old?

Questions, Answers

Josephine Lowman

Q. Would you mind if I occasionally write to you while reducing? This would certainly help me along the road to success. I followed your 9-Day Diet which appeared in the paper and lost 11 pounds. I weighed 186 and should weigh 136 pounds so now I am going to count calories. It took four years to put this weight on so I am not expecting overnight results.

I really feel that I am on the way now to losing weight successfully. Instead of buying cake mixes I'm buying grapefruit. The weather is in the 90's but the oven is on broiling and baking. It would help if I could write to you a few times for encouragement.

A. Surely you can write to me! I would love to hear about your success and that of other readers. I do think that it might reinforce your determination.

Q. I wonder if I can repeat your 9-Day Diet every once in a while during a long reducing trek? In between times I would stick with 1200 calaories a day.

A. Yes

Varying Charts

A. Why do calorie charts vary so much? For instance there is a great difference between the counts for cottage cheese.

A. There are different kinds of cottage cheese. That which has cream is so very much higher in calorie count.

Q. I am not close to my mother at all. Otherwise I would ask her this question. I am wondering if it is natural for the breasts to fall to the sides when you lie down? I am 15. Does this happen to all girls and women?

A. This is perfectly natural. I am sorry that you do not feel close to your mother because she is surely your best friend and I am sure she would like to be close to you. Why not give her a try? However I am always glad to answer any questions my teen-age readers send me.

Q. I would appreciate it if you would answer my weight question. I am 13 years old, five feet tall and weigh 110 pounds. My bust mesures 30 inches, my waist 26 inches and my hips 34 inches. Do you think I should diet or reduce? Could you give me some sort of activity other than setting-up exercises which would help?

You are some overweight —about 10 pounds. Don't diet except to leave off second servings, between-meal snacks, candy bars and rich desserts and sauces and gravies. Just eat a little less than you have been. Do not try to lose in a big hurry. Do it gradually. Swimming is an excellent exercise for you. In the fall become interested in some other sport.

Test Dummy Play

B. Jay Becker

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump. North leads the queen of clubs, South playing the seven. How would you play the hand?

♠ 6 4	N	♠ A K Q 7 3
♥ 8 5 4 3	W E	♥ A Q 7
♦ 8 6 5 3 2	S	♦ A K Q
♣ A 3		♣ 8 5

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Clubs. North leads a club and South wins and returns a club, North following suit. How would you play the hand?

♠ Q J 10	N	♠ —
♥ 10 7	W E	♥ A K Q 4 3
♦ A 7	S	♦ K 9 8 5 3
♣ K J 10 9 6 2		♣ Q 8 5

1. The only problem to solve is whether it is better to play for the spades to be divided 3-3 or whether it is better to rely on a heart finesse to obtain the ninth trick.

The chance of finding North with the king of hearts is 50%. The chance of finding the spades divided 3-3 is 36%. Hence the winning play in the long run is to rely on the heart finesse. After ducking the opening lead and winning the club continuation, the best thing to do is finesse the queen of hearts.

Of course, it is possible that in an actual hand the proper play might lose and the improper play win, but granting this, it is still best to rely on the percentage play.

2. The chances of making the contract with almost any line of play are very good, but the problem is to find the method of play that yields the maximum chance of making the hand.

Win the club and cash the A-K of diamonds. If both opponents follow suit, your worries are over. Ruff a diamond, ruff a spade, and then ruff another diamond, by which time the last diamond in dummy is sure to be a trick. Your two remaining spades can then be discarded on the fifth diamond and a high heart.

If it turns out that the diamonds are divided 5-1, stop playing diamonds and try to establish an extra heart trick in dummy. This will succeed unless the adverse hearts are divided 5-1 or 6-0.

It is important to tackle diamonds before tackling hearts. If the diamonds prove to be adversely divided, you can still fall back on a favorable heart division. But if you tackled the hearts first and now discovered a 5-1 division, it would then do you no good to estabish a diamond trick if that suit proved to be divided 4-2. There would be no entry left in dummy to cash the established diamond.

Sick Lawn May Have Poa Annua

Picture a beautiful lawn in spring—lush, green, healthy. Next, picture that same lawn during the hot, humid days of June — blemished with large, unsightly areas of dead, brown grass.

Does your lawn fit into this picture? Then there's a good chance you're afflicted with Poa Annua, a little-known weed that's on its way to becoming one of the major headaches of lawnowners.

Also known as annual bluegrass, Poa Annua is a light-green grass that sprouts in early spring while regular turf grasses are still dormant and thrives right up to midsummer heat. As the heat takes its toll, Pao sets its seed, turns brown and dies, leaving the lawn blotched with unsightly brown patches, ripe for infestation by other lawn weeds.

Two factors make Poa Annua especially troublesome for the lawnowner. One is its tendency to form seedheads very close to the ground. No matter how short you mow, chances of cutting away the seedheads are very remote. Rotary mowers, in fact, have been a major factor in spreading this weed since they whirl the seeds over a wide area, setting the stage for an even bigger crop of trouble next year.

Poa's other bad trait is its resistance to conventional weed killers. There's just no way of killing Poa Annua short of killing all your grass and starting over again!

The picture isn't completely black, however. There is a way of eliminating Poa Annua.

By studying the growth habits of Poa Annua, their researchers found that Poa Annua seeds, deposited before the plants die in June, usually begin to germinate in late August. By the time October rolls around, the plants are firmly established, ready to go through winter and plague you again next spring.

The answer, obviously, is to get Poa Annua before it germinates into the almost-impregnable plant. So, check with your gardener.

Since elimination of Poa Annua will leave some bare patches in the lawn, you'll probably want to reseed after applying a weed killer. In such a case, follow the directions printed on the bag.

To assure good results from this late seeding, Heritage House recommends you either soak the seed overnight in lukewarm water before sowing or sprinkle lightly for ten days after sowing. Either method will get your grass off to a good start before winter closes in.

Election Party Fun

It may come as a shock—but the national election is 10 weeks from next Tuesday—Nov. 3.

We are not making speeches or predictions—but someone did send us a clever idea for an election night party. Whether you are for Barry or LBJ is beside the point—It still will be an exciting evening and just the right time to have an informal party, most of which, naturally, will involve around the TV set.

Here are the party plans—

Unless you're terribly, terribly partisan, invite a small group of guests that includes both parties. Otherwise entertain guests who are of your own political faith.

Since all eyes will be focused on the TV set, don't plan on an elaborate dinner. Plan a buffet with political names such as "Political Ham," "Congressional Corn with Red Herring," and "French Fries a la Filibuster." Afterwards, serve "Baby (candy) Kisses" and Espresso coffee.

As the evening draws on, you might want to serve heaping bowls of popcorn along with liquid refreshments.

Since all eyes will be on the television screen, plan your decorating around that focal point. Consider, for example, a miniature bandwagon with a donkey and an elephant pulling it from either end. You can make the bandwagon from half of a half-gallon paper milk carton with large buttons or circles of cardboard for wheels. Decorate it with red, white, and blue miniature streamers. The donkey and elephant can be made of paper and pipe cleaners, each with a red, white, and blue "blanket" on its back.

Inside the bandwagon, arrange red carantions, white stocks, and blue cornflowers for a continuation of the patriotic color scheme. In addition, give each guest an identifying flower for his lapel buttonhole or her dress—red carnation for one party, blue cornflower for another, and white carnation for the independents.

If you start the party an hour or two before the returns start coming in, you might work up a game of charades with two teams. Only those stunts which have a political theme can be acted out. Then turn on your TV set and cheer for your favorite candidates.

Men Can Lose Weight Easier Than Women

It's harder for women to lose weight than it is for men, according to a medical study.

Men diet better because they have fewer emotional difficulties and less anxiety about weight. The study on overweight was conducted by Dr. William Shipman at the Michael Reese Medical Research Institute of Chicago.

Reporting on the study, Dr. Morris Fishbein, former editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, declared:

"According to Dr. Shipman, there are three types of overweight women: First, those who have always been overweight; most of them come from homes where the mother was dominant.

"Second, those who became overweight at a key point in their lives; often they are unmarried and were overprotected as children.

"Third, girls who gain weight in their teens; they usually are tomboys and active and imitate their fathers.

"Of 150 women on conservative diets for a year, only a third lost six per cent of their excess weight, Dr. Fishbein reported.

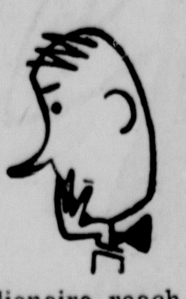
POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

These are summery days, the sunshine falling on the just and unjust alike.

Business is good. The Dow-Jones average is average — or whatever it should be. I really don't know what a Dow-Jones average is. I think of it as tape coming out of a ticker and the ruined millionaire reaching grimly in the desk for the loaded roscoe.



I don't suppose it's really like that. That's why I don't find out what it is. I don't want all the dramatics taken out of life.

☆ ☆ ☆

The average is good for dogs. Last year, dog owners in the U.S. bought $350 million worth of dog food. This does not include the steak you take home from the restaurant in the doggy bag.

At present we are out of dogs. But when I did have a dog, I have taken home as much as $2.50 of a $5 steak.

I still take it home. I say, "Would you put this in a bag for my dog?"

Next day, the kids take steak sandwiches to school. It is good for the economy.

☆ ☆ ☆

In McAllen, Texas the other day, a Texas ranger walked into a service station. His eyes were stern. His guns were slung low.

The service station man said: "What is it, ranger?"

The ranger said: "How much to wash my horse?"

The service station quoted a price of $2. They washed the horse and the ranger paid with a gasoline credit card.

That is something you don't see on TV. Until I heard about the ranger, I never considered how horses were washed.

Horses do a lot of galloping and no doubt get pretty horsy. Horses need baths just like people. If you have a horse, give him a gasoline credit card. This could work into a splendid side industry for Standard Oil.

Scientists have been feeding martinis to steers. Does an aperitif increase their appetites — and hence their saleable weight?

In one feed lot, they spiked the drinking water with a couple of pounds of liquor. The steers in the next feed lot got only water.

The drinking steers did not put on weight. They lost weight. Turned out they liked drinking better than eating.

Just sat around like a bunch of brokers on their lunch hour, saying: "C'mon, Joe. Let's have one more. Then we'll order."

☆ ☆ ☆

It is well known that American industry would crash and burn without the aid of pretty girls. Orange Queens drive the public to oranges. And "Miss Soapsuds" of 1964 is the sudsy hope of the soap makers.

"Miss Pickle" is now touring the U.S. She is 23. She has the measurements that drive men mad, mad, mad for pickles.

Once I interviewed a "Miss Potato Chips." When I went to lunch, all I had was a great craving for bratwurst and bock beer which was then in season.

☆ ☆ ☆

I have a report that the tarnished plant bug, an insect that damages lima beans, has been found as far as 3.2 miles away from the nearest land.

However, I can find nothing to do with this information. It might be handy if you were having lima beans for dinner. And the conversation was dragging.

Here is Mrs. Borghese. She is the daughter of the late Thomas Mann.

Mrs. Borghese went to India and studied elephants. She says she could teach an elephant to type. If she could get a big enough typewriter. And I don't doubt this a bit.

The question is what would the elephant type? That is the problem. You learn to type. But it doesn't always come out "The Magic Mountain."

Four Life Associations Will Continue

State Insurance Director Frank Barrett reported Thursday that four unincorporated mutual life associations which were on the verge of dissolution have reorganized and will continue to operate.

They are the Dollar Mutual, Echo Mutual, Furnas County Mutual and United Mutual Life Associatons, all of Beaver City.

Barrett held a hearing there Tuesday attended by some 1,100 persons.

He told the members they would have to do something about payments to beneficiaries which were in arrears.

The associations assess members for such payments.

The four associations had also failed to file annual reports with the State Insurance Department as required by a law passed by the 1963 Legislature.

In the reorganization, W. E. Bratt resigned as secretary-treasurer of the four associations and was replaced by C. Earl Haase of Beaver City.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Patriots Counting On Babe To Lead Club Past Foes

Ninth of A Series

Andover, Mass. (AP)—Boston won the 1963 Eastern Division championship with the American Football League's best defense and quarterback Babe Parilli operating at "25 per cent efficiency."

"We hope to be better this year," siad Coach Mike Holovak. "Injuries slowed down Parilli last year and affected his timing. Babe led the league in pass interceptions. The year before he had the fewest interceptions.

"I know he is better than he was last year. When he was well late in the season he played like he normally does. I have no qualms about the Babe as long as he is well."

Holovak's Patriots beat Buffalo in the division playoff last December but were crushed 51-10 by powerful San Diego in the title game.

Injuries at the running back position put a heavy burden on Larry Garron, the Pats' double duty fullback. Ron Burton, No. 1 running back, missed the entire regular season because of a back ailment and disc operation. His replacements were part time men due to lesser ailments.

Rookies J. D. Garrett of Grambling and Pete Pedro of West Texas State have been running ahead of Burton in the early games. Tom Neumann backs up Garron and Harry Crump is ready to play.

"We certainly expect a better season at flanker than we got from Jim Colclough last year," said Holovak. "We anticipate a better year at quarterback and figure on help for Garron."

Gino Cappelletti, defending AFL scoring champion, must battle Colclough for the flanker job. Art Graham will be the split end as Holovak seeks more speed for the position.

The retirement of tackle Milt Graham and the trading of Walt Cudzik forced Holovak to rebuild his offenseve line.

Rookie Jon Morris of Holy Cross has taken over at center with competition from Bob Dentel. Bob Yates and either Don Oakes or rookie Jay Donovan of Boston College will be the tackles and Billy Neighbors and Charley Long at guards. Tony Romeo has the edge at tight end.

"Our defensive unit will be the same as last year," said Holovak. "Then add Don Webb, who didn't play a minute because of a knee injury. He was our best deep back until he was hurt. You win with defense. I don't care what you say."

Holovak is particularly pleased with his linebacking corps of Nick Buoniconti, Jack Rudolph and Tommy Addison, with Don McKinnon behind them. Bob Dee, Jesse Richardson, Houston Antwine and Larry Eisenhauer are the front four.

With Webb back to man the left corner, the deep defense includes Dick Felt at the right corner and safeties Ross O'Hanley and Ron Hall.

Reminded that many observers are back on the Houston bandwagon, Holovak commented, "They can pick me last every year if they want. I anticipate being on top. We'll certainly be fighting for it anyway."

Pastrano Will Defend Title Against Downes

London (AP)—Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach, world light heavyweight champion, will defend his title against Terry Downes of Great Britain in Manchester Sept. 28, promoter Harry Levene said Thursday.

Downes is a former world middleweight champion. He won that title from Paul Pender of Boston, here in July, 1961 and lost it back to Pender nine months later at Boston.

Olympic Torch To Be Lit In Traditional Home Today

Olympia, Greece (AP)—The ceremony of lighting the Olympic flame, considered by many as centuries-old but actually begun only in 1936, will be enacted here Friday in the sacred grove where the ancient Olympic Games were held.

The flame will be lighted with a huge magnifying glass—if the sun shines. If not, someone may have to strike a match—that happened once before, according to archeologists here.

The flame is lighted only a few yards from the ancient stadium where the Olympics were staged every four years for more than 1,000 years. The last games were in 393 A.D. before they were resumed in 1896.

A few scattered columns remain from the ancient city of Olympia, which was covered with mud from the nearby rivers for many centuries until archeologists began digging it out in 1875.

An eternal Olympic flame is believed to have burned in the ancient city for more than 1,000 years.

No flame burns there now. Every four years, a torch is lighted in a ceremony arranged to look as much as possible like a ceremony of ancient Greece.

Practice was held Thursday before Greek and Japanese Olympic officials.

It went off without a hitch. High priestess in the ceremony was Aleca Katseli, who has led the ceremony every time since it was resumed in 1936.

The torch was lighted that year, possibly because the archeologists who have worked at Olympia for nearly a century are German, and carried by runners to Berlin.

This year the torch will be flown to Japan, with stops at many major Asian cities.

Then it will be carried in elaborate parades through the Japanese countryside and arrive in Tokyo in time for the opening of the Games on Oct. 10.

There are some political overtones in the touch route as it has been arranged by Japanese officials.

The torch will stop in Okinawa, an island which is officially Japanese territory but is under American military control, and be carried about there for several hours.

And the final torchbearer who has been chosen by the Japanese to carry the flame into the stadium is Yoshinori Sakari, 19, who was born on the day the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, Aug. 6, 1945.

Olympic officials said they had been looking for a suitable youth who was born on a memorable day symbolizing the birth of new Japan.

Coaches Enter Clinic

Football was in the spotlight as the 1964 Nebraska Coaching School opened in Lincoln Thursday. Registration for the event co-sponsored by the University of Nebraska High School Activities Assn. had reached 290 at noon and late arrivals were expected to boost the total well past 300.

The three-day school concludes Saturday morning and coaches will spend the afternoon at the sixth annual Shrine Bowl football game.

Russ Maples, highly successful prep football coach at Sexton High School in Lansing, Mich., was the featured lecturer as the clinic opened Thursday morning.

The 1963 Michigan "Coach of the Year" advised the Nebraska coaches to keep their offenses simple.

Maples was slated for four sessions with the prep coaches Thursday.

Nebraska coach Bob Devaney, his Cornhusker staff and Boys Town mentor Skip Palrang are others on the football program of the coaching school.

Basketball gets attention Friday with Herb Thompson, new coach at Moline, Ill., H.S., the guest lecturer. Thompson, former University of Iowa cager, coached at Waverly and Mason City, Iowa, prior to accepting the Moline post.

University of Nebraska basketball coach Joe Cipriano, also scheduled for basketball sessions, will be unable to take part in the school because of the recent death of his father.

Assistants Glen Potter and Bob Gates will handle Cipriano's scheduled appearances.

White Sox Climb Into First

Chisox Win Finale By 5-0 Over Ford

. . . ON LOPEZ' BIRTHDAY

Chicago (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, breaking Whitey Ford's whammy against them, rocked the New York Yankees 5-0 Thursday for a sweep of the four-game series and reclaimed the American League lead.

The Orioles lost 4-3 at Boston, and Chicago leapfrogged into first place with a percentage edge of .615 to .612 over them. Baltimore opens a four-game series in Comiskey Park Friday night.

The Whiet Sox, with a five-game winning streak, regained the lead for the first time since June 18.

It all came, appropriately enough, on Manager Al Lopez' 56 birthday.

Ford, who has been suffering from a hip ailment and was making his first start since Aug. 8, lasted into the fourth inning as the Sox piled up a 5-0 bulge in support of pitcher Johnny Buzhardt. He got his ninth victory against six setbacks and his first over the Yankees.

Ford, with a 12-4 mark, was rattled for two runs in the second, marking Chicago's first earned runs off him in 46 innings dating back to last August. He had pitched four straight shutouts over the Sox, including three in his three previous starts against them this year.

It was the last game of the year between the Yankees and White Sox, who lost the first 10 straight to New York. The season series closed with the Yankees on top 12-6.

The fading Yankees now have lost four games in a row, matching their longest losing string of the year.

Successive singles by Mike Hershberger, Ron Hansen and Cam Carreon jarred Ford for the first run in the second inning. Buzhardt accounted for the second by laying down a two-strike suicide bunt that brought Hansen home from third.

Hershberger singled in another run in the three-hit third. In the fourth, after yielding singles to Buzhardt and Jim Landis, Ford was replaced by Roland Sheldon. Al Weis grounded into the first out, Landis taking second and Buzhardt third. Floyd Robinson was intentionally passed, loading the bases with Moose Skowron coming up.

The strategy backfired. The ex-Yankee singled into short left-center, scoring Buzhardt, then Pete Ward's sacrifice fly tallied Landis.

From Performers To Boosters

Many programs gain their biggest boosters from former participants who are grateful for what they gained from the activity. And Midget Football ranks right at the top of this category.

One has trouble finding anyone who has participated in the Capital City program that was originated 15 years ago by Ed Dosek in connection with Roberts Dally who doesn't have something good to say for the program.

"I think so much of the program that I've gotten back in it," Wayne Kubert points out. Kubert participated on the 1954 Lincoln team that made a trip to the Santa Claus Bowl in Florida and the former University of Nebraska gymnast now coaches the Lions team in the AA Division.

"Midget football provides an opportunity for many youngsters to get a chance to play football who might never be able to play for their high school team because of their size," Kubert continues.

Don Erway, former Nebraska quarterback who never played Midget Football but is a strong backer of the program, agrees with Kubert on this point.

"In some cases, you will have a boy who can handle himself in the midget program who is unable to do so in high school," Erway explains. "This gives this type youngster an opportunity he would never otherwise get.

"It gives him a chance to play organized football and gives him a fling in athletics, something that never hurt anyone," the ex-Husker quarterback offers.

While the program was originated a couple of years too late for him, Erway aligns himself fully behind the values of the weekly competition.

"It's a tremendous program for the youngsters," Erway, who coached in the program for several years, stresses.

Builds For The Future

While keeping in mind that one of the values of the program is giving many youngsters their only opportunity to play football, both Kubert and Erway agree that it can be a force in preparing the boy for later football play.

"It's got to help," Erway notes, "And I think you'll start to see it pay off soon. It hasn't been very many years that the program has included six teams where so many got an opportunity to play.

"But I think even now you could go down the rosters of the high schools and find some of their top athletes are graduates of the midget program," Erway continues. "Now this wouldn't necessarily mean that Midget Football made them outstanding, but I'm sure it didn't hurt them any either."

A few who come to mind quickly are such as Doug Dworak and Bob Erickson at Southeast and Doug Campbell, who was a starter as a sophomore at Northeast a year ago.

"It's got to be a help when a boy goes into high school football," says Kubert. "You don't learn to saw a straight line the first time you pick up a saw.

"Even if a coach in the midget program teaches you everything wrong,' you've still learned to knock heads and you know what to expect when you step onto the field.

"Even if all you learn is to take a stance, that's more than the boy would know if he went out for high school football with no advance play."

Registration Set Monday

Registration for this year's Midget Football program will be held Monday night at eight locations to be announced in Sunday's Journal and Star.

With the values that Lincoln people like Erway and Kubert see in the program, Capital City parents can hardly afford not to give their youngsters the opportunity to participate.

Radatz Nips Oriole Surges To Preserve Boston Victory

. . . POWELL FRACTURES WRIST

Boston (AP)—Dick Radatz, Boston bullpen rescue artist, barely nipped late Baltimore surges and batterymate Bob Tillman hit a two-run homer for a 4-3 victory Thursday.

The Orioles lost slugging outfielder Joh Powell as well as ground in the American League pennant race. Powell has a broken left wrist bone and may be out of action for as long as a month.

Radatz repiaced young righthander Dave Morehead after the latter walked two men in the eighth. Morehead had blanked Baltimore for six innings and silenced Oriole bats from Earl Robinson's game-opening single until Russ Snyder doubled with one out in the seventh.

The latter blow drove in a run and a Luis Aparicio double and a grounder off Radatz accounted for two more in the eighth, but The Monster stranded the tying run on third when Snyder grounded to short for the final out of the inning.

The Orioles threatened again in the ninth on singles by Sam Bowen's with one out and Jerry Adair with two out, but Radatz struck out pinch hitter Jackie Brandt for the game's last out.

The Red Sox drove out rookie starter Dave Vineyard with a four-run, five-hit assault in the second.

Tillman lashed his 11th homer into the left field screen on a first pitch after Frank Malzone had singled. Morehead doubled off the left field wall on the play on which Powell was injured.

Rookie Dalton Jones then tripled off the center field wall, scoring Morehead, who was hit off the left shoulder by the relay throw just before crossing the plate. The ball carmoned away, enabling Jones to score also.

After Carl Yastrzemski got his second straight single, Dave McNally relieved and was brilliant—allowing one single—until he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Powell hurt his left wrist crashing against the left field wall as he jumped trying to catch Morehead's double. He finished the inning, then left the game.

The Orioles announced X-rays showed Powell had a fractured triangular bone in his left wrist. Trainer Ed Weidner said he would be sidelined for as long as a month.

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer interrupted a dressing room rehash of club injuries this year to comment about Powell: "This is our worst loss, by far. We might as well forget him."

Bauer was stunned by the blow to his team in the midst of the pennant fight and was not sure if baseball law will permit him to call up Curt Blefary, a home run hitter from Rochester, at this time.

Koufax Takes Cortisone Shot For Swollen Elbow

. . . NOT BELIEVED SERIOUS

Los Angeles (AP)—Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' man with the golden arm, was to have had a shot Thursday night at becoming the National League's first 20-game winner of the season.

He had a shot of cortisone instead.

Right-hander Joe Moeller replaced Koufax in the Dodgers' final game this year with Milwaukee, after Sandy's priceless left arm developed an inflamed area around the elbow.

Koufax missed half the 1962 season because of arm trouble and was out with another injury earlier this season. Dr. Robert Woods said the current disability isn't serious, however, and "he shouldn't miss more than one turn."

Sandy said the inflammation may have originated when he tried to break up a double play at Milwaukee earlier this month.

"It's been getting sore between turns since then," Koufax said. It started giving him real trouble after he loosened up Tuesday night, he added.

Sandy was given an injection of cortisone Wednesday night and, as expected, the reddened, swollen hinge stiffened.

Team physicians said Koufax won't pitch until Friday night at the earliest, possibly not until Monday. They said they won't know until Friday morning what effect the shots will have on Koufax' arm.

"We figured he'd have more trouble than this," said Dr. Woods. "We thought he'd probably need two or three more injections during the season after he hurt the elbow at St. Louis last April."

Even if Koufax doesn't climb the mound again until Monday he could still catch up with his 1963 record of 25 victories. He didn't collect his 20th victory last year until Aug. 29.

New Putter Helps Arnie Snare Lead

Akron, Ohio (AP) — Masters champion Arnold Palmer, using a new putter that looks like an old heel, shot a two-under-par 68 Thursday for the first round lead in the $50,000 American Golf Classic.

Playing through a heavy rain during the first eight holes, Palmer's steady game was surprising since the 7,165-yard Firestone layout with a par of 35-35—70 played longer than usual.

Palmer first used his new putter in a practice round Wednesday, when he also had a 68. He needed 32 putts to take the first round lead and had one three-putt green in the round which included three birdies and one bogey.

"I don't care if it does look like an old heel," said Palmer, "I kinda like it. It took a lot of putts today but I wasn't putting poorly. I just didn't make them."

Palmer's 34-34—68 gave him a one-stroke lead over Tony Lema, the British Open champion who was the only other one of the 88 pros to break par over the soggy fairways and gripping greens.

Colavito's Single Downs Cleveland

. . . A'S WIN, 7-4

Cleveland (AP)—Rocky Colavito drove in the tying and go-ahead runs with a single in a four-run outburst in the eighth inning Thursday night, leading the Kansas City Athletics to a 7-4 victory over Cleveland.

The Indians had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh on a run-scoring double by Woodie Held. It came off West Stock, who relieved Bob Meyer in the seventh after Meyer issued his ninth and 10th walks of the game.

The Athletics rally in the eighth came against Don McMahon, who replaced Lee Stange. The rally started with a walk, and a single by Wayne Causey after Ed Charles sacrificed, Colavito delivered his key hit. Doc Edwards also knocked in a pair of runs in the inning with a single.

The A's opened the scoring with a run in the second inning on successive singles by Jim Gentile, Edwards and Bert Campaneris. Kansas City made it 2-0 in the third on singles by Dick Green and Ed Charles sandwiched around an infield out.

The Indians struck back for a run in the third, helped by Meyer's error, then tied it 2-2 in the fourth on walks by Billy Moran and Chico Salmon and Dick Howser's single. Vic Davalillo homered in Cleveland's ninth.

Aberdeen Advances To Finals

Hastings (AP) — Aberdeen, S.D., scored four unearned runs in the top of the fourth inning to pave the way Thursday night for a 5-3 victory over Mandan, N.D., in the American Legion Region Six baseball tourney and gained the finals against Waterloo, Iowa.

Mandan was leading 1-0 when the North Dakota defense fell apart in the fourth. With the bases loaded, shortstop Wally Koch dropped a popup to allow two runs to score. Then Dave Ziegler doubled home two more and Aberdeen had all the runs it needed for the victory.

Aberdeen's only defeat in the tourney was at the hands of Waterloo Wednesday night.

Waterloo will start Rich Folkers, a lefthander with a 16-0 record, in the title game and Dave Hottman, a right hander with a 15-0 record, is expected to start for Aberdeen.

Late Rally Lifts Redlegs

. . . GIANTS FALL, 10-7

San Francisco (AP) — Relief pitcher Ron Herbel walked pinch hitter Tommy Harper with the bases loaded, sending home the tie-breaking run and triggering a six-run rally in the eighth inning that carried Cincinnati past slumping San Francisco 10-7 Thursday.

The Reds, winning their fourth straight, moved into a tie for second place in the National League with the Giants, who have dropped five in a row.

The teams stood 6½ games behind first-place Philadelphia, which played a twi-night doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

The Giants held a 4-3 lead until Deron Johnson slammed a bases-empty homer, his 18th off Billy O'Dell in the seventh.

Then Cincinnati erupted in the eighth. They loaded the bases on Leo Cardenas' lead-off single and walks to Steve Boros and Sammy Ellis. After a force play at the plate, Harper came to bat for Marty Keough. Herbel replaced O'Dell and walked Harper, scoring Boros.

Vada Pinson followed with a two-run single, and Frank Robinson singled in the fourth run. Pinson scored on Johnson's infield out, his third RBI, and Robinson came across as Don Pavletich flied out.

Del Crandall clouted a two-run homer in the Giants' eighth, while they picked up their last run in the ninth when Hal Lanier scored on Pinson's error and came in on Jim Hart's sacrifice fly.

Del Crandall clouted a two-run homer in the Giants' eighth, while they picked up their last run in the ninth when Hal Lanier doubled, took third on Pinson's error and came in on Jim Hart's sacrifice fly.

Solo homers by Cardenas in the fourth and Johnson in the seventh knotted the score at 4-4 after the Giants took a two-run lead on Willie Mays' 38th homer, a two-run shot in the third.

Phillies Build NL Lead To Bulging 7½ Games

. . . TAKE BUCS TWICE

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies built their National League lead to a commanding 7½ games Thursday night completing a doubleheader sweep by beating Pittsburgh 3-2 on a long sacrifice fly by Johnny Callison that drove in two runs in the eighth inning.

The Phillies won the opener 2-0 behind Art Mahaffey's two-hit pitching and a two-run homer by Frank Thomas in the ninth inning.

The twin triumphs added 1½ games to the Phillies' edge over San Francisco and Cincinnati, now tied for second place. The Reds beat the Giants 10-7 earlier in the day.

Callison had boosted the Phillies into a 1-1 tie in the nightcap by hitting his 21st homer in the sixth inning. Bob Bailey had homered for the Pirates in the third.

Then, in the eighth, the Phillies wrapped it up. Winning pitcher Rick Wise singled to center, and Tony Gonzalez reached base on Dick Schofield's error. Richie Allen beat out an infield hit, loading the bases, before Callison thumped a long fly to deepest center field.

Manny Mota made the grab, but both Wise and Gonzalez were able to come around and score on the drive.

The unusual, two-run sacrifice fly proved decisive when the Pirates got a run back in the ninth on single by Smoky Burgess and Bill Mazeroski's double.

Thomas' home run in the first game broke up a tense duel between Mahaffey, 11-6 and Bob Friend, 10-13.

Mahaffey walked two and struck out five while Friend walked three and fanned six.

Angels Erupt For 4-3 Win Over Tigers

Detroit (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels, held to just two hits through six innings by Dennis McLain, erupted for four runs in the seventh and downed the Detroit Tigers 4-3 Thursday night.

McLain aided the Angels' rally when he threw the ball into the right field bullpen after fielding a ground ball hit by Felix Torres. The error allowed Bob Rodgers to score the tying run.

Lu Clinton then greeted reliever Julio Navarro with a single to right to score Torres with the winning run.

The Tigers scored their first run in the third inning on a single by George Thomas, a walk and a single by Don Demeter.

Gates Brown's bases-loaded single with two outs in the fifth drove in the other two Detroit runs.

Conference Called To Set Standards

A medical conference which could be of far-reaching influence and significance for the sports world, will get under way at the University of Nebraska today.

For the first time an assembly of physicians will meet to establish guidelines and standards for the physical fitness of participants in contact and non-contact sports.

Dr. S. I. Fuenning, coordinator of the conference and director of the University of Nebraska Health Service, said a group of recognized authorities in the fields of medicine and athletics will meet with physicians and trainers from Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas.

"Physical fitness standards have been established in industry, the armed forces and other fields, but this had not been done as yet for athletics," Dr. Fuenning said. "It is our hope that the guidelines established here will serve as a pattern for other parts of the nation and that some set of standards can be universally accepted."

Caught 1,001 Games

Coach Bob Swift of the Detroit Tigers caught 1,001 major league games, most of them with Detroit. He also was with the Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns, teams that later shifted to Kansas City and Baltimore, respectively.

Three Americans Missing In Congo

Leopoldville, The Congo (AP)—Troop and ammunition reinforcements were rushed by air Thursday to Congolese forces losing ground in defending Bukavu from rebel hands. Three Americans were reported missing.

Radio messages said Bukavu's garrison of more than 800 soldiers had been pushed by the communist-backed rebels back into the European quarter of Bukavu, the last important northeast Congolese city still in government hands.

The U.S. embassy in Leopoldville said no word had been received from vice Consul Lewis R. Macfarlane, 25, of Seattle, Wash., and two Army officers attached to the U.S. military mission to the Congo.

They are Col. William A. Dodds, 50, a counter-insurgency expert, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Rattan, 40, an Alexandria, Va., infantry officer.

Reached Safety

Consul Richard Matherson of Fresno, Calif., and the other five members of his staff notified the embassy by radio that they had reached safety at Kemembe Airport, about three miles from Bukavu, in neighboring Rwanda Republic.

A radio operator in the Belgian consulate at Bukavu sent word that he was hit by a machine gun bullet inside the consulate building, but not seriously wounded, and that another Belgian was killed in front of the central post office during heavy fighting Wednesday night.

A Bukavu resident reported by telephone to Shangugu, Rwanda, that a 77mm shell hit a truck loaded with rebel youths and scattered their bodies around the wrecked vehicle. He said five other bodies lay in front of the Belgian consulate, whose front wall was pocked with bullet holes.

U.S. Air Force C130 transport planes, newly arrived in the Congo, were ferrying reinforcements to Congolese Col. Leonard Mulamba and his men.

Mulamba, on the defensive in the European quarter, a peninsula jutting into Lake Kivu, reported he hoped to shift to the offensive, with sufficient reinforcements.

Driven Back

Rebels thrust into Bukavu's suburbs last weekend, but were driven back.

Meanwhile, across the Congo River from Leopoldville, in Brazzaville, the Congo Republic's foreign minister called on the Organization of African Unity to investigate worsening relations between the two Congos.

Premier Moise Tshombe on Wednesday ordered all citizens of the Congo Republic (Brazzaville), Burundi and Mali deported because their governments were assisting the rebels.

A message reaching the United Nations told of the fighting in Bukavu and how the three Americans may have been captured. It added that papers belonging to Rattan had not been recovered.

Rattan and Dodds were sent to Bukavu recently to observe antirebel operations. Macfarlane, a fluent speaker of the Swahili tongue, was believed to have been with them as interpreter when nine truckloads of rebels crashed into Bukavu Wednesday.

Herman To Lead Forces For Goldwater In Midwest

Richard L. Herman of Omaha has been named Midwest regional campaign director for Republican presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Herman will direct the campaign in Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Oklahoma.

Herman, 44, an Omaha businessman, served as Midwest regional director in Goldwater's drive to the GOP nomination.

Stephen Shadegg of Phoenix, Ariz., has been named regional director in 11 Western states, including Alaska, Arizona, Idaho, Hawaii, Montana, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Utah and Wyoming.

The two appointments round out the GOP field generalship for the area west of the Mississippi River.

Herman's appointment is regarded as particularly significant in that the Midwest is viewed as perhaps the major battleground in the struggle between Goldwater and President Johnson.

Herman will hold a press conference in Omaha Friday night.

U.S. Loan To Nigeria

Lagos, Nigeria (AP)—The United States has loaned $3.8 million to Nigeria to aid in training teachers in northern Nigeria. The program will produce 25,000 teachers, the number estimated by the government needed in the region by 1970.

TEAMSTERS TO LET HOFFA APPEAL

Miami Beach (UPI)—Members of the Teamsters Union executive board said in a signed statement Thursday they did not plan any action to remove President James R. Hoffa until his legal appeals of fraud convictions have run their course in the courts.

Hoffa, who said he was not consulted about the statement and did not ask for it, called it "positive, living proof that there is no dissenstion in this union."

He said it was "gratifying" to know that the board was still behind him.

The action came following the final four-session of a two-day meeting of the executive board here.

The statement was read at a news conference by Teamsters Vice President Harold Gibbons of St. Louis who had a falling out with Hoffa a few months ago but is still a member of the executive board.

Buddhist Villagers Halt Armored Viet Convoy

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Villages waving Buddhist flags stalled a column of armored personnel carriers in a government operation against the Viet Cong Thursday by throwing themselves in front and back of the tread-tracked vehicles.

Whether Coommunist sympathizers or just Buddhist critics of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's U.S.-backed regime, nearly 1,000 Vietnamese took part in the passive resistance demonstration in the coastal area below Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

It came on the first anniversary of the Pagoda raids and wholesale arrest of Buddhist monks and nuns in the political-religious crisis that led last November to the overthrow and death of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Vietnamese officers fumed, but refrained from ordering strongarm tactics to clear the road because of revived tensions among the Buddhists and fear that Viet Cong propagandists might exploit the trouble.

Military sources said they were certain 85% of the villagers were sympathetic to the Red guerrillas. They expressed belief such actions might become a significant new Viet Cong tactic.

While Buddhists staged anniversary rallies in Hue and Saigon a guerrilla battalion wiped out a mud-walled government outpost at Phu Tuc, 50 miles south of this city. Of the 36 defenders, seven were kiiled, 15 were wounded and the rest were captured.

The venerable Thich Tam Chau, one of Viet Nam's two ranking Buddhist leaders, publicly assailed Khanh in Saigon and urged the people to "be ready for self-sacrifice and prepare for a long, arduous struggle."

Minh Liked

The Buddhists like Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, who led the rebellion that destroyed the regime of Diem, a Roman Catholic, and who was ousted as president by Khanh.

Speaking later before a crowd of about 10,000 at the Buddhists' main compound, Chau charged that the government information and interior ministries have been "concealing the true facts" about incidents involving Buddhists in central Viet Nam.

This presumably referred to charges that government officials, annoyed because peasants chose to attend a Buddhist gathering rather than a re-educational meeting scheduled at the same time, burned 270 homes. Khanh has disciplined the officials and offered compensation.

Reapportion Law Adoption 'Would Affect Nebraska'

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer Thursday said he thinks a House-passed bill aimed at nullifying the recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling on state legislative reapportionment is applicable to Nebraska.

The measure, which still faces a tough fight in the Senate, would deny Federal courts jurisdiction over pending and future cases.

Rev. Edgar Again Named Overseer

The Rev. W. L. Edgar has been re-appointed to another two-year term as Nebraska state overseer of the Church of God.

He was re-appointed at the International General Assembly, Dallas, Tex., which is held biennially.

For more than 15 years the Rev. Mr. Edgar served as district overseer in South Carolina, Illinois, and Tennessee before coming to Lincoln two years ago.

Stock Market Dips Sharply

New York (AP) — The stock market Thursday had its sharpest decline in a couple of weeks, but trading was slowed, thus removing emphasis from the setback.

Volume shrank to 3.87 million shares from 4.17 million Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average lost 3.05 at 838.71.

The decline was attributed mostly to technical factors but there also were elements in the news that dampened enthusiasm. These included a further slump in housing starts, a reduction in some oil refinery operations and formal rejection by the United Auto Workers of the counter offer by the companies in the current labor talks.

stocks wavered uncertainly in early trading but by noon they were starting down. Losses deepened until late in the day when there was a slight recovery.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks sank 1.3 to 315.0 with industrials down 1.8, rails down 1.3 and utilities unchanged.

Of 1,345 issues traded, 691 declined and 372 advanced. New highs for the year totaled 39 and new lows 33.

The most active stocks showed 7 losers to 5 gainers and 4 unchanged.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.11 million shares compared with 1.38 million Wednesday.

Corporate bonds edged lower, U.S. government bonds gained slightly.

All Grains Are Steady, Easier

Chicago (AP) — A forecast of rainfall discouraged speculative support of the grain futures market Thursday and all contracts closed steady to easier after mostly dull transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans, easily the most volatile the past several days, lost more than a cent on the new crop months. August finished firm to easier in active evening up transactions. Prices galloped over a range of about seven cents before the contract expired at noon.

The grains were mostly fractions off at the close.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel lower, September new grade $1.43⅞-¾; corn unchanged to ¾ lower, September $1.20¼-⅜; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September 63¾ cents; rye ½-1 cent lower, September $1.25¾-26; soybeans 1¼-1⅝ lower on the new crop months, September $2.49⅛-¼.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Current Election Campaign Is Splitting Existing Blocs

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

It is already visible that the presidential election campaign is breaking down previously existing groupings.

Rukeyser

President Johnson's advocacy of the tax cut and his remarks in favor of profits have seemingly increased Democratic support in business circles. Whether these impressions will be reflected in the November 3rd balloting, it seems to me, depends more on the current favorable short run economic trend than on ideological issues.

The remark is frequently heard that with corporate profits rising, this is no time to rock the boat. A contributing factor to the big gross national product has been the pump priming induced by colossal federal spending for armaments and "bread and circuses."

Without regard to party labels, the real question pertains to the level of statesmanlike judgment of corporate executives as a group. Nowadays a new professional management bloc has repdaced the earlier breed of proprietors with a heavy financial stake.

Prudent old line proprietors, thinking in terms of building up an estate for their heirs and assigns, tended to take a longer term look. Nowadays too many men in high management posts are approaching automatic retirement at 65. Accordingly, at this stage of their careers there is a temptation to drift and not engage in controversy or innovations in order not to disturb their deferred claim on a corporate pension and other fixed benefits.

Exaggerated Talk

While President Johnson has been successful in curbing political business baiting and while his own Horatio Alger type rise from comparative poverty to wealth has impressed businessmen, talk of desertion from the Republican party tends to be exaggerated. Part of the corporate contributions to the Democratic Party is a hedge against future developments and an expression of a desire to get along with whatever politicians are temporarily in charge of the federal government. As taxpayers and as bidders for government contracts, this is deemed being practical.

This writer ever since the New Deal days has felt that business executives, who richly benefit from the American competitive system, should not mine the soil of free enterprise, but should enrich it for the future figuratively through putting in fertilizers and rotating crops.

In other words, instead of taking a short term view and thinking "after us the deluge," they have a patriotic obligation to stand up for prudent operating principles, constitutional government, respect for private property and for the private sector of the national economy, for sound money and fiscal integrity. With their specialized knowledge of economic procedure and accounting principles, they should resist unwise attempts to overstimulate a boom, leaving insufficient weapons in the economic arsenal for calming down future recessions.

Campaign Issue

Specifically, the issue in this campaign, is not the profit system vs. Socialism. The point of difference is the degree to which the "private sector" (business) — to use Galbraith's phrasing—is to be restrained in order relatively to expand "the public sector" (government).

A collateral issue is the wisdom of planned federal deficits during an expanding boom—and the related one about White House interference with an independent Federal Reserve System in order to keep interest rates down so as not to offset the stimulus from the tax cut. Similarly the frame of reference of the tax reduction as a device for short term business expansion should be thoroughly explored.

The guiding rule for responsible executives of voluntary companies should be to contribute to perpetuation of the principles of a free competitive society and to leave the country at least as strong when they retire as it was when they began to plow the fields of economic opportunity for gain.

Business statesmanship demanrs a capacity to resist momentary benefits and to stand for the long term health of the economic system, of which their enterprise is a part. To take a less statesmanlike view is to live up to the charge of Marxian detractors who dub private executives as anti-social exploiters.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters witht self-addressed stamped enevolpes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Queestions of general interest will be answered in this column.)

Tornado Lashes Culbertson Area; Buildings Down

Culbertson (UPI)—A tornado here Wednesday night destroyed a county shop building, badly damaged a garage and blew the roofs off of a number of residential homes.

Mayor Charles Haller told United Press International that to his knowledge no one was injured.

The storm knocked out a rural electrification line from Palisade to Culbertson and caused numerous tree damage in the area.

Culbertson is 11 miles west of McCook on U.S. 6-34.

Near Culbertson, a couple from New York traveling through by auto with their 10 children were caught in the storm. The car of the family, whose name was Olds, struck a slick spot on U.S. 6-34 near Culbertson and overturned. There were no injuries.

More than two inches of rain fell in McCook in a period of about one hour. Both radio stations in the city were off the air for a short period of time due to the storm.

Authorities said several small fires at McCook were touched off by the lightning.

4 Americans Die In Ambush By Viet Cong

Saigon (AP) — Four American military advisers were killed in Kien Hoa Province south of Saigon Thursday night when their infantry unit was ambushed by communist guerrillas, U.S. sources reported Friday.

Vietnamese losses were reported high, but their total was not known.

The bodies of all four Americans were recovered early Friday by a relief force that moved in from My Tho.

Their deaths bring total Americans killed in action in South Viet Nam to 185.

The Americans were with an infantry battalion searching for a Viet Cong force that attacked and overran the military outpost of Phu Tuc on Thursday morning. The operation area is about 50 miles south of Saigon.

Of the 36 defenders of the mud-walled outpost, seven were killed. 15 were wounded and the rest were captured. Three of the prisoners were rescued later by airborne troops, who killed two of the guerrillas and captured five.

Barriers Down In Jackson's Schools

Jackson, Miss. (UPI)—Forty-three Negro first graders smashed segregation barriers in this Deep South capital city Thursday by registering for classes at eight previously white schools.

There were no incidents, but fear of violence was evidenced in the fact that many fathers took over the job normally left to the mothers and accompanied their children to school.

Police allowed no one on any of the school grounds, except parents, students and teachers.

Press facilities were set up at the Board of Education building with telephone lines to the school principals and police.

Several Turned Away

Several students, Negro and white, were turned away at the schools because their parents were not with them.

In one instance, a Negro boy accompanied by a white civil rights worker attempted to register after the books closed. They were told they were too late, and that the child would have to be accompanied by his parents.

Charles Evers, state NAACP field secretary, commended school officials and citizens "for the splendid manner in which they have received desegregation of our public schools."

Enrollment was down slightly from that anticipated at most of the schools, including the ones which received Negro applicants.

School officials had expected 3,824 pupils to enroll, but only 2,315 showed up at the 26 formerly all-white and 12 formerly Negro elementary schools.

A total of 1,705 of the expected 2,000 whites showed up, but only 567 of an anticipated 1,800 Negro children enrolled.

No Speculation

School officials declined to speculate on the reasons for Negroes staying at home.

They pointed out that late registration provisions would be made.

Mississippi is the only state in the union which previously had made no move toward integration in schools below the college level.

The barriers fell when a Negro boy, accompanied by his parents, registered at Galloway Elementary School within five minutes of the school registration opening. When registration had closed at noon, eight other Negroes had applied at Galloway; eight at Watkins; five at George; 12 at Davis; three at Poindexter; four at Barr; one at Power, and one at Spann.

Detective Sergeant John Chamblee said, "Conditions at and around the public schools today have been virtually the same as they were during school registration last year."

Downed Pilot Picked Up In Laotian Area

Washington (AP) — The State Department said Thursday an American helicopter was shot down in Laos by communist forces Tuesday, but the pilot was rescued by a second helicopter.

The action took place southeast of the Plaines des Jarres, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said.

He said the U.S. embassy in Vientiane reported the helicopter operated by Air America under contract with the U.S. Agency for International Development, was downed while attempting to rescue the pilot of a Royal Laotian Air Force T28 which had been shot down earlier the same day.

"A second Air America helicopter subsequently rescued the pilot of the first helicopter," McCloskey said. "The T-28 pilot was not located.

The pilots of the helicopters were Americans but their names were not immediately disclosed.

Air America, a privately run company, has contracts with aid to supply rice and other food stuffs to Meo tribesmen who live in mountainous areas of central Laos and have fought against the Communist Pathet Lao. Air America also has evacuated thousands of these tribal people by air transport from regions dominated by the leftist troops.

Bolivia Votes To Side With OAS, Break Cuba Ties

La Paz, Bolivia (AP)—Bolivia's Chamber of Deputies, by a 37-6 vote Wendesday night, urged the government to break relations with Cuba under a decision voted by the Organization of American States in Washington recently.

Bolivia, Uruguay and Mexico are the only American republics that maintain relations with Cuba.

Foreign Minister Fernando Iturralde said after the Washington meeting that Bolivia would break with Cuba. Delay in doing so has brought increasing pressure in congress. Antigovernment deputies walked out before Wednesday night's vote was taken.

Congress Passes Wilderness Bill On Preservation

Washington (AP) — Congress approved Thursday, after years of study and controversy, legislation to set up a national wilderness preservation system on federal forest lands.

The bill, which now goes to the White House, stood 19th on President Johnson's list of 30 "must" measures. Its final form in a compromise of differences between rival versions passed by the House and Senate.

The compromise bill was approved Thursday by the House, and then by voice vote in the Senate.

The bill would set up a 9.2 million acre wilderness preservation system, which may be expanded later to up to 14.7 million acres.

When first proposed several years ago, the bill drew protests from western ranchers who graze livestock on federal lands and from mineral and petroleum prospectors on the public domain. Their rights are safeguarded in the bill that was enacted.

Assassination Showed 'OK If Men Cry'

London (AP)—News of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy showed it was all right for strong men to cry, a New York psychotherapist told the first International Congress of Psychiatry Thursday.

Dr. Milton M. Berger said television coverage of reactions of people all over the world carried a message "transmitted nonverbally" that men, including strong men who were leaders in all walks of life, could cry in public without appearing to be or being judged as weak, effeminate or unmanly.

"This freedom to be authentic," he said," "to feel and express appropriate grief and indignation—to be what one is—could reduce, if it were more widespread, some of the alienation, isolation and hostility now existing in people."

Tides Pick Up Napper

Taranto, Italy (AP)—Anna Montemurro 35, stretched out on an inflated rubber mattress at a beach here and took a nap. When she awoke she found the tide had come in and she was floating half a mile from shore. Her cries brought help and she was towed to shore.

Oil Co. Founder W. M. Keck, Dies At Bel-Air Home

Los Angeles (AP)—Multimillionaire oilman W. M. Keck, founder of Superior Oil Co., died Thursday at his Bel-Air home at the age of 84.

A spokesman said death followed a brief illness.

He resigned as board chairman in 1962 but had remained active in company affairs.

Keck is survived by his widow, Joan; sons W. M. Keck Jr., and Howard B. Keck, both of Los Angeles, and two daughters, Mrs. Williametta Fuller of Pebble Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Alice Park of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Mayor Says 'She Can Keep Key'

Billings, Mont. (AP)—Mayor Willard Fraser says Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson can keep the city's only official key if she wants it.

The 10-in-long metal key was presented to the first lady during her visit to Billings last Friday, but no one told her she wasn't supposed to keep it.

Fraser, a Democrat and son-in-law of the late poet Robert Frost, said: "I think the city councilmen can find it in their souls to dig up funds for a new key. But they're awfully tight-fisted with money."

He said the key was worth about $35.

PHS Team Discusses Dental College Funds

University of Nebraska officials discussed the possibility of using federal funds for a new dental college Thursday with a Public Health Service team sent here from Washington.

The six man fact-finding team from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare is here to gather information about the proposed dental college which will be passed on to their superiors in Washington for review.

The 1963 Nebraska legislature authorized a special .25 mill levy expected to raise $1,750,000 toward the proposed $4.5 million dental college structure.

University officials hope to get the remainder from the federal government.

A decision by officials in Washington is anticipated this fall.

If built, the new dental college will probably be located on the University's College of Agriculture campus.

'Christians Will Decide World Fate'

. . . WSCS TOLD

"The Christian world will decide if this is an age of hope or doom," Methodist Bishop J. Waskom Picket told the Nebraska Woman's Society of Christian Service Thursday night.

The 74-year-old bishop has spent the past 46 years serving missions in India. He personally knew the late Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

Bishop Picket said, "We can't return to the religious standards of yesterday without accepting our own doom. In the past the church has turned the Gospel into a mockery."

BISHOP PICKET

Jesus proved his word with his deeds, the bishop said. "Had the church been faithful to Christ's mandate, we'd have a wonderful world today," he continued.

'Wicked Label'

He labeled "old time religion" as wicked, saying too often it was only emotional.

"We live in an age of tremendous achievement. For example, medicine has made more progress in the United States this century than in the total past," Bishop Picket said.

The world needs both the preaching and proving of the Christian Gospel, he said. "We must use our minds to remove the afflictions of man."

"The world has suffered because disciples down through the ages haven't used their minds as Christ commanded," the bishop said.

Hes aid one of the biggest tasks the missions have faced in India is proving that God didn't make lepers, rather that leprosy is the failure of man to use his mind.

Defend, Confirm

"We must defend and confirm the Gospel—give it life. We must share our potential with the world and give others the knowledge that we have," Bishop Picket said.

He said Nehru called the Methodist missions in India the most helpful of all missions to that nation. Methodist missions were instrumental in bringing education to Indian women, and medical facilities, including physcial therapy and psychiatry, and a tuberculosis sanitarium.

Mayor Approves Dust Prevention Machinery Bids

Purchase of dust-collecting equipment for the city's paving repair asphalt plant on low bids under $4,000 was approved Thursday by Mayor Dean Petersen.

City crews will install the equipment in the 15th and X plant. It will prevent industrial dust from plant operations.

The Day Co., Minneapolis, Minn., was low bidder at $3,366 on the dust collector while Lewis Welding & Engineering Co., Saginaw, Mich., was low at $524.82 on the spray washer.

Other contracts awarded on low bids:

—Midwest Lumber Co., Lincoln, $5,877.64 for wooden light poles.

—International Harvester Co., $4,374 for tilt-cab truck for the water department.

Indian Shop Destroyed In Racially Hot Area

Smethwick, England (AP)—An Indian food shop was destroyed by an explosion in this Birmingham suburb, a racial trouble spot. Smethwick has been the scene of bitterness because of a large influx of West Indian Negroes and Indians. The bitterness has become a local political issue, with this slogan chalked on walls: "If you want a nigger neighbor, vote labor."
